INQUEST FINISHED VERDICT RESERVED

NO DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY

Authorities Apparently all at Sea—Detectives is Baffled and Talks of Case—No Arrests Now Seem Likely.

Hendersonville, N. C., Sept. 19.—The hearing of evidence in the inquest into the death of Myrtle Hawkins the 17-year-old girl whose body was found floating in Lake Osceola, near here, September 10th, was completed tonight, but the jury reserved its decision until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

No evidence of a startling nature was brought out at the hearing today.

In summing up the evidence before the jury and the possible cause of the girl's death, Coroner Kirk said she might have come to her death from three causes—namely from shock from the entrance of air into the veins, or from a hemorrhage which might have resulted from an operation or from an assault. He said death could not have been due to drowning and if it was due to an anesthetic no indications of it had been found.

Detective Bradford, of Washington, who is here on the case, stated this morning that in his 25 years experience, he had never seen a case with more sides and with more baming and conflicting evidence.

"When I came here," he said, "from the information I received the first night, I thought it would take about 24 hours to have the guilty person or persons under arrest. The people who talked to me said "so and so' will tell you this and the other. When the person was brought to him an entirely different story would be given. To work out every theory held by the many here anxious to win the reward offered, would take six months. I have had more experiences of a difficult nature to contend with in this case than in almost any I have ever been interested in."

STATE POSTMASTERS

First Session of Convention Met Last Night in Asheville.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 19.—The fifth annual convention of the association of North Carolina Postmaster was in its first session of three days in the ball room of the Battery Park Hotel tonight at 8 o'clock, being called to order by President J H. Joyce, of Reidsville. Prayer was by Dr. R. F. Campbell and Charles G. Lee, of Asheville, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of the city and Mayor J. E. Rankin in a short well-worded address extended the fullest welcome of the city to the visiting delegates. The response was by W. J. Leary, of Edenton, in a most eloquent address of appreciation on the part of the delegates. Appointment of various committees by the president followed the main address of the evening which was by C. B. McKesson, of Morganton, on "The Village Postmaster and His Relations to the Public, an eloquent, witty and instructive talk much enjoyed and R. D. Douglass, of Greensboro, on "Regulations Pertaining to Second Class Mail Matter," latter spoke with special reference to newspapers and periodicals. He referred to the special editions and supplements as nuisances and hard to determine if mailable. Political supplements were especially hard to handle. He said newspapers got rates below the cost of carrying because of the educational value and said they were subsidized and so should be held to the regulations. Third Assistant Postmaster General Britt followed with an impromptu talk emphasizing the details of Mr. Douglass' speech. Inspectors Osborne, of Goldsboro, and Bulla, of Asheboro, were on the programme but were absent and Mr. Douglass' speech was substituted. The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock until 9:30 tomorrow. About 100 are already present and 50 more are expected tomorrow.

BOY BURGLARS IN NEW YORK.

Police Capture Kids of Nine and Five in Act.

New York, Sept 19.—Two boy burglars, aged nine and five years, were today captured at the revolvers' point by a reserve squad of three detectives and three uniformed policemen, while ransacking the home of August Day in Williamsburg. John Fonchinsky, the older boy, defiantly cried: "I ain't a squealer. The gang knows I'm square," while little John Bills, anything but a bad burglar, wailed: "I wanna go home." Neighbors hearing suspicious noises today in the boarded-up house notified the police. When the formidable band of raiders entered, silverware was found piled in a heap on the table and the diminutive robbers crouched nearby. The younger lad was taken home when the elder was sent to the Children's Court. It is thought that they were being used as tools by some gang of burglars.

WAR CLOUD IS DISSIPATING

Paris, Sept. 19.—The long period of national anxiety attendant on the Moroccan negotiations is drawing towards a satisfactory concluison. The French people have been slow in accepting the optimism which has prevailed in Berlin for several days, and it was only today, after a semi-official communication to the press, based on Ambassador Cambon's telegraphic report to the Foreign Office of his interview with the German foreign minister yesterday, that sufficient reasons appeared for the conviction that the six months' uncertainty is nearing an end.

A semi official note issued this afternoon says that the French negotiations with Germany entered a new stage during the conversation between the German Foreign Minister, Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, and the French Ambassador to Germany, M. Cambon, yesterday, promising an early agreement.

The note says that Herr Von Kiderlen-Waechter did not give M. Cambon a written reply, but talked over with him certain modifications in a spirit of conciliation. No document was handed over, because time would have been lost in transmitting it to Paris and in retransmitting the reply to Berlin.

The conversation, the note adds, makes a satisfactory issue probable, but it will be premature to consider all divergencies as having disappeared. Another interview will take place on Thursday and it is hoped by the end of the week the negotiations will have reached a decisive turn.

A second semi-official communication tonight says that although the question of the economic interests of Germany in Morocco appears to be on the eve of settlement, there remain other disputed points still to be settled. Among these are the questions relating to consular courts and a system whereby the legations and consulates take certain natives under their protection. France desires in this regard that Germany shall accept in principle the eventual abrogation of the convention of Madrid, concerning the question of jurisdictions in Morocco and that Germany shall not undertake to increase the number of her proteges while awaiting such abrogation.

The French people, particularly the business world, have become weary of the daily agitations—the doubts, the rumors, the confusing reports of what was happening or likely to happen. It is the most serious controversy France has had with Germany since 1870, and the unity of the people, the firmness and tenacity of the government toward a formidable neighbor, with Great Britain always as a friend in the background, is regarded by foreign observers as worth the strain and worry that have been undergone. France's position in Europe, it is generally considered, has been greatly strengthened.

GRAVE SITUATION IN SPAIN.

Crisis Similar to That During Barcelona Riots.

Madrid, Sept. 19.—Spain is face to face with a crisis equal in gravity to that following the riots in Barcelona in 1909. The situation is bad. The agitation and the power of the agitators on the masses have increased in proportion to the rigor of the repressive measures undertaken by the government.

What at its origin was purely a labor movement has now developed into a revolutionary conflict, a commune having actually been proclaimed at two towns near Valencia. At these places the authorities were driven out of the districts.

The affiliated trades unions have decided to call a general strike tomorrow throughout the length and breadth of Spain, and the government, abandoning the tone of optimism heretofore maintained, today decided upon the drastic steps of "suspending the constitutional guarantees" throughout the whole country.

It was explained, however, that in so doing the government did not seek to persecute the trades unions, but it was made quite clear that any attempts to stir up a rebellion would be rigorously punished. All meetings have been forbidden. The military authorities, it is further stated officially, will not assume control except in extreme cases.

AGAINST FUSION IN NORFOLK.

Regular Democrats Making Another Contest.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—Norfolk county regular Democrats, refusing to concede that the fusionists are Democrats, today filed notice of a new contest against the successful fusion nominees for the legislature and members of the Democratic executive committee in the primary election of September 7th. Curtiss I. Old, and George A. Peak, legislative nominees, who were made defendants, won by 500 majority. The fusionists elected 27 out of 30 committeemen.

Negro Who Assaulted Mrs. Chaplin to be Electrocuted.

WILL DIE IN CHAIR, OCT. 20

Deed Committed Saturday and Trial Took Place Tuesday — Verdict Rendered in Ten Minutes—Colored Preacher on Jury

Raleigh, N. C., Cept. 19.—At Wadrenton, N. C., this evening at 6 o'clock the Superior Court jury got the case of Norval Marshall, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Chaplin and shot her father and the sheriff of Warren county seriously last Saturday night, and after ten minutes of consideration returned (at 6:10) a verdict of guilty.

Judge Justice at once sentenced the convict to be electrocuted October 20th—the exact minimum limit of one month under the law—and the prisoner will be brought to the State prison at Raleigh tonight for the carrying out of the sentence, all electrocutions now being within the walls of the State penitentiary here.

All of the 12 jurors were farmers but one (who is a tobacconist).

The first juror presented and accepted was George W. Duke, a negro preacher. The others were all white.

Mrs. Chaplin was placed on the stand and recited the circumstances of the assault and the accomplishment of the negro's purpose. At the request of the court, all the spectators left the court room during the recital.

The defendant's only attempt at defense was a plea of insanity and his father, mother and a cousin were examined as witnesses for him.

Lawyer R A Hawkins appointed by the court to defend the negro did his duty, but the evidence was such as to warrant but the one yerdict rendered

GOOD WEATHER FOR COTTON.

Government Reports Favorable Conditions on North Carolina.

Washington, Sept. 19.—General favorable weather in the cotton growing States during the week which ended yesterday, was reported by the National Weekly Weather Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, issued today. It says:

"The weather was warm, sunshine abundant, and conditions were favorable. No rains occurred over much of the belt to the westward of the Mississippi and some excessively hot weather occurred in Texas and Oklahoma. In the more eastern States of the belt, however, temperatures were not so high, local rains occurred and conditions were, in the main favorable for the further development of the cotton plant as well as for picking."

Conditions by States:

Virginia — temperature about normal. Precipitation normal in north and East—Central elsewhere decidedly deficient.

North Carolina—Temperature above normal. Rainfall light, except near coast. Ample sunshine, conditions favorable.

South Carolina—Warm and dry, especially in South. Temperature above normal, rainfall practically lacking. Sunshine above normal.

MANY KILLED IN CHINA.

Rebels Are Active—Numerous Reports of Attacks.

Peking, Sept. 19.—The French legation has received a dispatch from Sui-Fu that the prefect's yamen at that place has been attacked and burned by the rebels. Many persons were killed.

The Chinese foreign board has received reports of an attack on the yamen at Kiating-Fu, but details are lacking.

The board also has been advised that the yamens have been looted in five towns in the neighborhood of Cheng-Tu.

A message from Gen. Chao Erh Feng, commander of the troops within the besieged capital, says that he will despatch troops to the disturbed districts as soon as it can be arranged. He is evidently awaiting reinforcements.

VIRGINIA DEBT CONTROVERSY.

Commission of Old Dominion May Sue West Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 19.—The Virginia debt commission has been called here tomorrow for the purpose of deciding upon the next step taken in the long continued efforts of this State to force West Virginia to pay a portion of the old debt due from that State to Virginia. The matter is of long standing and involves millions of dollars. In view of the fact that the Legislature of West Virginia utterly ignored the question of its State's indebtedness during its recent session, it is thought probable that the Virginia commissioners will tomorrow ask the Supreme Court of the United States to enter a judgment against West Virginia.

AWAIT CHAIRMAN'S ARRIVAL

No Developments Yesterday in Threatened A. C. L. Strike—Feeling That Amicable Adjustment Will be Reached.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 19.—With the arrival at 8:30 A. M. tomorrow morning of E. M. Doughty, chairman of the grievance committee of the car workers of the Atlantic Coast Line, it is believed that the trouble between the car workers and the A. C. L. will either come to a head and a strike be declared, or else the men will go back to work, pending a settlement.

This is the feeling of union officials tonight. There was nothing definite to change the situation today. The men held a short meeting this morning, but when they learned that President Dunlap had received no word from the Chicago headquarters, they adjourned. Whatever arrangements were made yesterday between the railroad officials and Mr. Doughty, at the Wilmington meeting, will be explained to the men here with the arrival of Mr. Doughty. It is understood that orders from Chicago will not be received until Mr. Doughty himself wires headquarters officially. This will not be done until after the meeting in the morning. Union officials said tonight that they did not know whether it meant a settlement or strike, but that they were prepared in either case. It is believed here, however, in railroad and union circles, that a settlement will be reached. The movement of freights was slightly impeded today. There was no trouble in the yards, however.

General Manager W. N. Royall, of the Atlantic Coast Line, stated to a Star representative at the general offices of the company here yesterday afternoon that there had been no new developments in the strike of the car workers of the system since Mr. E. M. Doughty, of Charleston, chairman of the grievance committee of the car workers, left here Monday evening for Rocky Mount to inform the strikers of the results of the conference which he held with Mr. R. E. Smith, general superintendent of motive power for the Coast Line, over the disagreement between the men and the company.

Mr. Doughty will meet the strikers today and confer over the disagreement and Mr. Royall stated that he was expecting no further developments until he had heard from Mr. Doughty. In response to a question Mr. Royall stated that no more men had gone out yesterday.

SCHOONER KAPLAN WRECKED.

Down on Cheapeake Bay Shoals During the Night.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—The four masted schooner Bella B. Kaplain, Captain Dow fro Washington and Norfolk bound to Savannah with 4,-6000 tons of coal, was thrown by a strong tide on Tail of the Horse Shoe Shoals in lower Chesapeake bay during the night while becalmed and today lies probably a total wreck. Her crew of ten men escaped in their boats and were brought here today.

The Kaplan was attempting to sail out of the Virginia capes when the wind died out and the strong tide carried her on the dangerous shoals. She settled quickly and her crew took to the life boat. Coming on a buoy, they made fast and awaited daybreak when they were rescued and brought here.

ANOTHER TRUST IS PROSECUTED

Government After the United Shoe Machinery Company.

SIX PROMINENT MEN INDICTED

Charged With Maintenance of Unlawful Combination in Restraint of Shoe Trade—One Indictment Under Clause.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19.—Six prominent business men connected with the United Shoe Machinery Company were indicted today by the Federal grand jury for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Two indictments were returned, alleging the maintenance of an unlawful combination and conspiracy in restraint of trade on the part of President Sydney W. Winslow, Vice Presidents Edward P. Hurd, George W. Brown and William Barbour; Counsel Elmer P. Howe and James J. Storrow. Messrs. Winslow, Hurd, Brown, Howe and Storrow are Bostonians while Mr. Barbour is a resident of New York. All except Mr. Storrow are directors of the company. Mr. Storrow resigned from the directorate just before the municipal election two years ago when he was a candidate for mayor, but is the largest stockholder.

The grand jury sat for nearly a month considering the evidence produced by 75 witnesses who were brought here by special agents of the Department of Justice at Washington from all parts of the country, but especially from New England. The investigation was in charge of United States Attorney Asa P. French, assisted by Special Assistant Attorney General William S. Gregg and Oliver E. Pagan, of Washington.

The indicted officials will be summoned into court within the next ten days to plead to the indictments and furnish bail.

The penalty provided under the statutes involved is a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for one year, or both. The trial will not take place until well along in the Winter, owing to the crowded condition of the Circuit Court calendar.

According to Mr. Gregg, the indictments charge that the six defendants have been working through the instrumentality of the United Shoe Manufacturing Company in a way to make them criminally liable under the Sherman act.

The second indictment also alleges that the carrying on of the business under the merger of three old shoe machinery manufacturing companies, which was effected in February, 1899, was engaging in a combination in restraint of trade, that it was a conspiracy in restraint of the trade of shoe manufacturers and that the whole transaction was a monopolization of inter-state trade, all of which, it is further alleged, has had "a pernicious effect upon the public."

The United Shoe Machinery Company has branches in various parts of the world.

Complaints made to the Department of Justice against the United Shoe Machinery Company—the so-called "Shoe Machinery Trust" — brought the attention of the government to the case.

It is understood that the corporation was charged with being a monopoly in restraint of trade. Infringements upon the patent laws were also alleged, it is said.

Prompt action on the part of the government followed the receipt of the complaints. In April, a few weeks after they had been filed, William S. Gregg, special assistant to United States Attorney General Wickersham began a government probe. Special Agent George E. Kellchor and James L. Bruff assisted Mr. Gregg in his search for evidence.

The result of the work of these government officials was that on July 26th of this year Attorney General Wickersham ordered United States Attorney Asa P. French and Mr. Gregg to present evidence obtained to the Federal Grand Jury that reported today..

The United Shoe Machinery Company came into being in 1889. It was founded by Sydney N. Winslow, its present head, who learned shoe making in a small factory in Salem, Mass., owned by his father, who to secure advantages of combining allied interests, formed a corporation embracing the three leading companies then making shoe machinery—(Goodyear and McKay Shoe Machinery Company)—were consolidated. The company was re-organized in 1905 and suosequently auxiliary companies sprang up in Canada, Great Britain, France and Germany. That same year the manufacturing of all its shoe making machinery was concentrated in one large factory at Beverly, Mass. The United States Shoe Machinery Company now employes 4,000 hands, who turn out 20,000 shoe machines yearly.

The royalty system, by which the corporation disposes of its machines, allows a shoe manufacturer to lesse machines, paying rentals in royalties on every shoe made. A manufacturer may buy machinery if he gets it from the United Shoe Machinery Company, providing he buys his "findings"—such as wire nails and eyelets—from the company.

It is claimed that the royalty paid

WIFE MURDERER TO BE HUNG

South Carolinian Convicted of Killing Wife and Father-in-Law—Also Shot Wife's Sister—He Confessed.

Anderson, S. C., Sept. 19.—Samuel H. Hyde, confessed murderer of his young wife and her father, was convicted by a jury late today of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is hanging. The death sentence will be pronounced by Judge Prince tomorrow.

The reading of the verdict had no visible effect on the prisoner, who said later, that the finding was a just one, that he was guilty of murder and expected to be convicted. Under the laws of South Carolina pleas of guilty in murder cases are forbidden.

The crime for which Hyde was convicted was committed on the night of the 18th of last July. While Mrs. Hyde and her sister, Willie Beasley, aged 15 lay asleep in one bed, and her parents, W. V. Beasley and wife, were asleep in another bed in the same room, Hyde entered and fired three shots into his wife's body, killing her instantly, and fired twice at her sister, both shots taking effect, but not fatally wounding her. Re-loading his revolver he shot and killed Beasley, who was attempting to disarm him.

OAK RIDGE OPENING.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oak Ridge, N. C., Sept. 19.—Students continue to pour into Oak Ridge, so that at the present time the registration is larger than ever before. Practically every room is taken except a few in private boarding houses, mostly reserved for those who are tardy in reporting. The literary Society halls were crowded to overflowing at their first meeting, each having from sixty to seventy-five new members, while a number were turned away for the evening.

The Rev. Dr. Marrs, presiding elder of this district, preached a remarkably fine sermon in Methodist church at this place last Sunday. It was addressed in part to the large body of young men who practically filled the auditorium. He is perhaps one of the ablest pulpit orators in the State.

This school has been fortunate in the return of all its Facility of last year. Prof. J. W. Hester who had intended to reenter the University this year for the law course, finally consented to return and continue in charge of the department of higher mathematics, the course in this subject has recently been enlarged by adding another year He will read law under Prof. Whitaker during the term.

Mr. Ira Moser will have charge of the department of English. He is a new man here, having graduated from the University the past year, where he distinguished himself as one of the leading debaters He was prepared for college at Oak Ridge Institute.

Miss Blanche Holt has returned from Asheville where she spent the month of August, and the first week in September with her friends, the Misses Rollins. Miss Bessie Benbow and Miss Ola Lowrey left Wednesday for the deaf and dumb school at Morganton; where they hold positions as teachers. Miss Benbow took a course leading to this position at North Hampton, Mass.

The first issue of the Oak Leaf will be out the first of October, and will probably take magazine form. It has heretofore been published twice a month, some what after the style of the Tar Heel.

DURHAM PHYSICIAN SUICIDES..

Durham, N. C., Sept. 19.—Seating himself in a most comfortable position in the living room of his beautiful Colonial home, on Chapel Hill street, this morning about 11:30 o'clock, Dr. Will Graham, one of the most prominent physicians of this city, placed the barrel of a pistol in his mouth and sent a bullet through his head, death resulting almost instantly.

Dr. Graham, was alone in the room at the time, and no one else was in the house except the colored servants in the kitchen. They heard a muffled sound but thought it was the noise of falling lumber on an adjoining lot where a new building is being erected. Mrs. P. C. Graham, a sister-in-law of the dead man, found him upon her return from a visit about two hours later He was seated in the chair with his head leaning back with one arm resting comfortably on the arm of the chair, and the other arm grasping tightly the weapon by which the deed was committed.

No cause has been assigned for the rash act except that the dead man was in bad health, and had slight chances of ever being better.

Dr. Graham was the great grandson of Governor William A. Graham, a nephew of Major W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture, and also of Judge A. W. Graham, of Oxford, and Col. Benehan Cameron, of Raleigh. He is survived by his father, three brothers, one sister, a wife and two small sons.

New Orleans, Sept. 19.—At the annual meeting of the Southern Association A. A. U., last night a subscription was started to be used in an effort to secure the all around championship for 1912 from the National Association All the old officers were re-elected. ## PRESIDENT TAFT IS SIGHT SEEING

HOW THE BIG LOCKS WORK

By Their Means Ships Are Lifted and Lowered Nineteen Feet From One Lake to Another—No Politics.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 19.—After a run into the northern part of Michigan, President Taft turned aside from politics today and spent an enjoyable afternoon in Sault Ste. Marie.

He made a brief address to the people from in front of the local armory, but confined himself to local topics. He promised the people of the "Lock City" that he would give his attention to the water power situation here and would see that the long disputed subject was settled. Many of the industries of the city have been retarded by the restrictions upon the use of water.

Mr. Taft took a special interest in the great locks on the canal here. Thoroughly conversant with the work on the giant water lifts at Gatun and Pedro Miguel on the Panama Canal, the President was anxious to see some big locks in actual operation.

So on board a tug he was dropped 19 feet through the biggest of the three locks, and saw a number of ships lifted from the lower level of Lakes Huron and Michigan to the surface waters of Lake Superior.

Soon after his arrival at noon the President headed a procession of some 50-odd automobiles through the streets of the city and was cheered vigorously. He was entertained at the home of Governor Osborn, who met him at the train and attended a luncheon of citizens where covers for 500 were laid.

The President spent the late afternoon at Fort Brady, reviewed the United States troops here and had tea with Major and Mrs. Sydney T. Cloman. He left shortly before 6 o'clock for Marquette, where he will spend the night.

TAFT HOLDS 'EM OVER.

Cruise of Pacific Fleet to Hawaiian Islands to be Abandoned.

Washington, Sept. 19.—After having declined to postpone the cruise of the Pacific fleet to the Hawaiian islands or the ground that it would interfere with the efficency of the Navy, the Navy Department today took an "about-face" and ordered the vessels detained until after President Taft's visit to San Francisco October 14th, to attend the ground breaking ceremonies of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. This action, it is understood, was taken on instructions from the President.

The fleet was scheduled to sail for Honolulu October 1st. As the postponement of the trip for more than two weeks will bring the ships so close to the date for their Fall target practice and maneuvers, it is probable that the Hawaiian cruise will be abandoned.

Numerous petitions have reached the Navy Department urging that the ships be held in California waters until after the exposition ceremonies. Just a week ago the Department announced that this would be inadvisable as most of the vessels had been undergoing repairs for some time past and had no opportunity for crusing, maneuvers and target practice. As their detention, it was said, would work detriment to the efficiency of the fleet, the rekuests were denied. The Department today reversed itself, however, and ordered the fleet to hug the shores of this country until further orders.

A TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Three Shot to Death Over Girl at Rafter, Tenn.

Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 19.—Because Miss Elsie Ellis refused to accompany Obie Butler home from a dance at Rafter, Tenn., last night three men are dead. When she refused to go with Butler, Miss Ellis requested Olney Phillips, a boy of 17 to accompany her. When Butler saw them leave the dance he followed and shot Phillips dead. John Heading, aged 25, then rushed up to Butler and asked why he should shoot Phillips. In reply Butler shot Heading, killing him instantly. The third death came when an unknown person shot Butler from behind, the ball piercing his brain. Butler was 30 years old. Young Phillips was especially prominent in this section.

Americus, Ga., Sept. 19.— Following a preliminary hearing at Leesburg today of the case of R. C. Kennedy, charged with causing the death by poisoning of Mrs. Maude Childers, a six months bride at Smithville, four weeks ago, as a result of which Kennedy was held without bail, Mart Childers, husband of the dead woman was arrested here tonight on a warrant charging him with killing his wife. Childers was placed in jail tonight and will be taken to Leesburg tomorrow morning.

INDICTED CASHIER GIVES UP.

Alleged Forger Surrenders to the Police at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 19.—Nick M. Ellis, former cashier of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, who was recently indicted for forgery, on six charges of making false entries and misapplying the bank's funds, returned from New York last night and surrendered. He was placed under bond of $6,000.

CHALMERS BASEBALL TROPHY.

Two Cars Will Be Awarded by Hugh Chalmers in Big Leagues.

Local baseball fans will remember the interest that attended the offer of the Chalmers Trophy Motor Commission to the leading batter in the major leagues last season and the intense interest with which the contest between Larry Lajoie and Ty Cobb for supremacy during the latter part of the season, and will be interested to learn that a similar trophy has been offered this season.

Two cars will be awarded this season by Hugh Chalmers, the donor of the trophy, but unlike the contest last season, it will be offered on a broader and more comprehensive basis than simply the one standard of batting average, namely, the basis of the greatest all-around value of a player to his team in the pennant race. One car will be awarded to the best man in each the American and National Leagues.

For the purpose of determining who really is the most valuable player in each league, the Chalmers Trophy Commission has been formed, consisting of the sporting writers on the papers throughout the towns of the two leagues, who will ballot on the contest after the close of the pennant race, and the cars will be awarded during the championship series the same as last year. The following points of ability will be considered in making the awards: Batting, baserunning, fielding, aggressiveness, aid to team play, quick thinking, conduct on and off the field, time of reporting to club, and respect for club discipline. That the awards will be fairly made was assured when the task was placed in the hands of the baseball writers who see all the players a number of times during the season, who follow each angle of the game, whose business it is to know all that happens in baseball, both on and off the field.

TROUBLE IN SPAIN.

General Situation far From Settled—Penacora Disturbance.

Lisbon, Spain, via the Frontier, September 19.—Notwithstanding the recognition of the Republic by the powers and the apparent tranquillity of the country, the general situation is far from settled. According to Diario Noticias, State officials yesterday proceeded to Penacova, eight miles from Coimbra, to make an inventory of the church property to be confiscated by the State. The inhabitants, advised of their approach, sounded the church bells and gathered, to the number of more than 1,200.

The vanguard was formed entirely of women armed with pitchforks, knives and shot guns. The women numbered 300 and the local military forces were unable to resist the onslaught and fled ingloriously. Strong reinforcements were despatched to the scene and a fierce fight followed, the inhabitants being forced to give way.

The officials burst in the doors of the church, only to find the edifice empty. Not even a chair remained. Rich paintings, statuary, theatre furnishings and tapestries had been removed and hidden.

The same thing happened in the churches of the neighboring villages and the officials were forced to abandon the district.

Complete tranquility will return only after the separation law has been modified and the Royalists on the frontier have been forced to submit to the new regime or dispersed. Foreign capital has been withdrawn and trade is paralyzed.

MUNICIPAL CONGRESS.

Governor Jno. A. Dix Speaks on Interference of the State.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—A vigorous plea for the emancipation of American cities from the control of State governments was made today at the International Municipal Congress by Governor John A. Dix, of New York, whose paper on "Home Rule for Cities" was read by Charles Logue, chairman of the Boston School House Committee.

"The necessary condition of efficient and honest municipal government," Governor Dix contended, "is an adjustment of relations between the State and the cities that will make the cities as free from State interference and control as the States are free from National interference and control. There can be no right solution of the problem of city government until it is admitted that the city has an inherent right to be endowed with adequate authority that can be exercised without interference from any quarter to satisfy the right and meet the needs of the people within the municipality.

"The time has come when the cities should demand that instead of being governed as subject provinces, they should be endowed with powers of government as complete and efficient as those vested in the State and the Nation."

"Endow our cities with self government to which they are entitled and at once there will be created a sense of civic pride and civic responsibility that will in turn generate a vivid sense of public welfare."

Recovered Her Sight.

After being totally blind for twelve years, a woman eighty-seven years old—Mrs. Boyland, of Taunton, England, has received back her sight. During these years she had prayed that she should regain her sight, and about a month ago she could see a glimmer of light. Gradually the blindness has disappeared and she can now see what time it is by the church clock 100 yards away. She saw a motor car for the first time a few days ago.

The Turkish Way.

We don't think we ever pungled for a real Turkish bath, though we have produced for the Turkish bath, so-called. The real Turkish bath, judging from the appearance of such Turks as we have seen, is a dry cleaning process.

IN THE FISTIC RING.

Fight Between American Featherweight and English Lightweight.

New York, Sept. 19.—On the eve of the ten-round battle here between Abe Attell, world's featherweight champion, and Matt Wells, England's premier lightweight, both fighters were reported fit and even money is being laid on the outcome.

Thomas Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast, and a representative of Packey McFarland, are expected to be at the ringside with a challenge to the winner. In case of Wells' winning the bout, a match with McFarland is forecasted, while if Attell defeats the Englishman it is thought that his next opponent will be Wolgast.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19.—Battling Nelson, the former lightweight champion of the world, hammered his way to victory in his bout with Billy Nixon, Cambridge, here tonight, the referee stopped the fight in the tenth round of a scheduled 12-round contest. For seven periods. Nixon blinded by the swings of the former champion, fought pluckily on and received a terrible beatting. The Dane did the greater part of his damage in infighting.

New York, Sept. 19.—Jimmy Barry, of Chicago, had an easy time defeating Jewey Smith of England, in a ten-round bout at the 20th century athletic club tonight. The men, both heavyweights, opened in lively style, Smith having the better of the first and third rounds, according by his rushing tactics. From the fourth round on, however, it was all Barry's.

THE WRESTLING GAME.

Big Meet Scheduled to Take Place at Rocky Mount, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 20.—George Herbert, light-weight wrestling champion of the world, will defend his title in Rocky Mount next Friday against "Young" Turner, of Washington, D. C. The bout will open a series of fall and winter attractions to be put on at the Opera House by the Rocky Mount Athletic Club. The men have met before in Richmond. At that time, Herbert won two out of three falls. Herbert won the title in 1907 from Tommy Jones, of England, and has never been thrown in his class. There is much interest here over the bout and a delegation from Richmond and Norfolk is expected.

SHOOTS HUSBAND AT DENVER.

Quarrel Over Son by Previous Marriage Ends in Tragedy.

Denver, Sept. 19.—In a quarrel over her 12-year-old son by a previous marriage whom the step-father had forbidden to come to the house, Mrs. Assunta Molicone yesterday shot and killed her husband, Pasqual.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Eugene Godet, an aviator, was dashed to earth from a height of 60 feet and severely injured in the presence of 6,000 persons this afternoon. Both his legs were badly twisted, one ankle broken, a shoulder broken and his head painfully gashed. The accident was due to the motor stopping. The biplane was virtually demolished.

Killed on Rocking Horse.

To find their little son hanging dead entangled in the reins of his rocking-horse, was the sad experience of Sunderland, Scotland, parents, a few days ago. The little fellow, Raymond Watson, used to cleverly ride the horse while it was swinging briskly, and it is thought he had been playing circus tricks, had lost his balance, and having been unable to extricate himself in the absence of his parents, had been choked to death.

Sort of Job He Wanted.

"There's what I'm looking for," said the lazy man going through the want advertisements for an easy job, as his eye lighted on a call for canvassers to sell something that "would sell itself." "That's the sort of a job I want," he said to himself. "Something that I can earn money at without work." And he thought that really some day he must go down and look 'em up.

Perfected Eyeglasses.

Eyeglasses for those who are near sighted cut crescent shaped have been common for a long time. A yachtsman appeared recently with a pair of eyeglasses crescent shaped, but for those who are far sighted. They are just the reverse of the reading glasses. When wanting to see a distance the wearer looks through the glasses and when reading he looks under them.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself betore commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sale on this preparation since first introduced in Wilmington and the remarkable results following its use have made J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but they have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, through the use of Samose that they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvellous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach and makes good, rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

There is no theam more plentiful to scan

SMITH CASE HEARD.

Boy Who Drove Mr. Brady's Car When It Turned Over.

The case against Willie Smith, the chauffeur who was driving Mr. R. H. Brady's car on the Castle Haynes road when it turned over at the four-mile post some time ago, seriously injuring Mrs. Sarah Burriss and painfully bruising two of Mr. Brady's daughters and one other lady who was riding in the car at the time, was heard before Magistrate Harriss yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Smith was charged with exceeding the speed limit and reckless driving, and was sentenced to 20 days on the county roads, but judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

The State introduced a number of witnesses to show that the car was running well above the limit of 25 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Most of them agreed on the apparent rate of speed, placing it between 40 and 45 miles an hour. The defendant stated that he did not have a speedometer on the car at the time but that he felt reasonably sure that he was not running over 25 miles an hour. Justice Harriss pronounced judgment of a sentence of 20 days on the county roads, but stated that as this was the youth's first offense he would suspend judgment on payment of costs and condition that if Smith came before him again on a similar charge during the next 12 months judgment would be prayed and the sentence would be enforced.

Real Estate Transfers.

Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: Jno. W. Batson and wife to W. A. McGowan, for $1 and other considerations, lot in Carolina Place, on Perry avenue, 117 feet east of 17th street, 66x92 feet in size; Winter Park Gardens Company to Wilhelm Ammenhauser, for $10 and other considerations, lot at Winter Park Gardens, 66x236 feet in size; Beulah and Henrietta Ennett to Atlantic Trust & Banking Company, for $1 and other considerations, lot on Sixth 99 feet east of Ann street, 33x165 feet in size; Martin L. Lets Auto Run Over Body.

Before a crowd that fairly blocked the streets in front of the Airdome and Orton Hotel on one side and the postoffice building on the other Prof. Americus, the strong man filling an engagement at the Airdome this week, allowed a five passenger Reo touring car to run over his prostrate form, with every seat in the car occupied and a number of people standing on the running board, at 8 o'clock last night. The attraction drew many interested spectators, but only a few were able to see anything, so crowded was the street. However, all were satisfied that the machine actually went over the man and that he had done all he claimed he could do. The machine was driven by Mr. Chas. Whitaker.

Married Here Yesterday.

Justice G. W. Bornemann yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock married Mr. Dock Wells and Miss Missouri Harris, a young couple who came over from Brunswick county for the purpose of plighting their troth in the city. The ceremony took place at the office of the magistrate and was witnessed by a number of interested spectators. After the marriage Mr. Wells and his bride departed for their home in Brunswick.

GOT OFF AT WRONG STATION.

Aged Man Found and Brought to City Monday.

Miss Aleph Cason, who is teacher at the school in district No. 8, in the southern part of the county, arrived Monday with her father, an aged man, who left Newbern Sunday to join his daughter here. He failed to arrive at the time expected, thereby causing her much worry and uneasiness.

The old gentleman was put aboard the train at Newbern Sunday by relatives, but when it reached this city he had disappeared and his daughter was almost frantic with grief and worry. She made a number of telegraphic inquiries and then went to Newbern Sunday to see if she could find some clue to her parent's disappearance there. When she reached Newbern she learned that Mr. Cason had gotten off at a small station between Newbern and this city. Father and daughter were soon reunited and they came on to the city Monday. They went to the home of Mr. James English, near Oak Hill, where they will board during the Winter.

Had Grown Out of It.

Middle-aged graduates of an academy in Auburn, Me., were discussing school days, says the Chicago Post. "What became of that red-headed boy who was so afraid of the girls?" asked one. "He has just been divorced from his fourth wife," said the graduate who had kept up with the times.

Armstrong Will Recover—St. Mary's Opening—Cotton Cases in Supreme Court—Nash County Man Pardoned.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 19.—W. W. Armstrong, who was knocked on the head by the swinging door of a car in a Southern freight train, knocked on to the parallel Seaboard track where another passing train later ground off one arm and inflicted other injuries, is reported at Rex Hospital to be in fairly satisfactory condition with some prospect for recovery. The injuries were at first thought to be certainly fatal. The accident was last Sunday morning. Armstrong is a married man. He was drunk and was walking between the tracks when the accident occurred near Pullen Park.

The State School for the Blind here opens Thursday and the indications are, President Ray says, for an opening enrollment of 400, the largest in the history of the school.

At the earnest request of Rev. H. M. North, the pastor, Edenton Street Methodist church here has pledged to support a missionary in the foreign field, over $700 being pledged for that purpose.

St. Mary's College, the parochial school for the Episcopal church in North and South Carolina, is opening this week the most auspiciously in the history of the college. Rev. Geo. W. Lay, the rector, has fully recovered from the severe sprain of an ankle that he sustained a couple of months ago.

Will G. Wilkins, serving a sentence in Nash county for selling whiskey, is pardoned by Governor Kitchin on recommendation of county officials and many citizens, all opposition to the pardon being withdrawn. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 and serve 12 months in jail, the sentence to begin six months from the time imposed, the purpose being to give the man opportunity to leave the State. He remained and has served six months of the sentence. His health has failed and his proper treatment in jail is impossible. His pardon is conditioned on good behavior.

Two of the most notable cases on the docket for the Fourth district called in the Supreme Court for argument on appeal today were Rogers McCabe & Co., Norfolk, vs. Bell and the same Norfolk firm against Brock. They are two of six or eight cases that have been appealed from various Eastern Carolina counties, involving the operation of the noted Woodard Act of the 1909 Legislature known as the bucket shop act that put the bucket shops out of the State. The cases at issue grew out of contracts that the Norfolk firm had with the defendants for the delivery of cotton at 10 cents per pound when the market price had, after the contract was made, advanced to around 15 cents. The defendants came into court and pleaded the Woodard act as prohibiting such future delivery contracts on the ground that there was really no purpose in the contracts that there should be any actual delivery of the cotton. There will be two other appeals of a like character up for argument next week with Alexander Sprunt & Sons, the big exporters of Wilmington, as the plaintiffs.

This week in the Supreme Court the Fourth district appeals are being argued, the docket being as follows: Bissett vs. Lumber Co.; Rose vs. Bryan; Barnes vs. Telegraph Co.; Morse & Rogers vs. Schultz; Bank vs. Stock Co.; Rogers, McCabe & Co., vs. Bell; Rogers McCabe & Co., vs. Brock; Town of Tarboro vs. Staton; Battle vs. Rocky Mount; Pettit vs. Atlantic Coast Line; Morgan vs. Morgan; Bailey vs. Matthews; Sherrod vs. Mayo, (two appeals); Powell vs. Insurance Co.; In re Saville estate; Wacksmuth vs Railroad.

Gen. J. S. Carr stated positively here today that he will not be in the race with Senator Simmons, Governor Kitchin, Chief Justice Walter Clark, and ex-Governor Chas. B. Aycock, for the United States Senate. He says he made this decision, however, much he would like to round out the life he has given North Carolina, with the United States Senatorship.

IN "LITTLE" WASHINGTON.

Public Schools Open—Rev. Mr. Harding's Anniversary.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Sept. 19.—The Washington public schools opened yesterday for their regular Fall and Winter terms. The opening exercises were held in the school auditorium and were largely attended by the school board and a number of visitors and parents of the children. Short and appropriate addresses were made by Hon. Jno. H. Small, of the school board, W. L. Vaughn, Rev. Mr. Barber, Rev. Isaac Hughes, of Henderson, Rev. H. B. Searight and Rev. R. V. Hope, of this city. The schools start with a total enrollment of 700 pupils, with the prospect of a good many more new pupils in the next few days. The school has the brightest prospects yet for a most successful year and one of the strongest and most thoroughly equipped faculties that it has had in the history of the school.

Last Sunday Rev. Nathaniel Harding, the beloved rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, this city, celebrated his 38th anniversary as rector of this church. Large congregations were present at both the morning and evening services, and at the morning service the same hymns and entire service that were used 38 years ago, were used at this service. Rev. I. W. Hughes, rector of Holy Innocents' Episcopal Church, Henderson, preached the anniversary sermon. At the night service Rev. M. A. Barber, of Christ's Church, Raleigh, delivered a strong sermon.

It is understood on very good authority that the preliminary work on Washington's public building will commence in the next few days. The work of driving the piling will be started next week and the remainder of the work pushed as rapidly as possible.

TIMELY RESCUE OF FATHER.

On Way to Wilmington Lost His Way. Fortunate Discovery.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 19.—Saturday morning Mr. Benjamin Cason, an elderly gentleman living in Beaufort county, left his home for Wilmington, N. C., near which city his daughter, Miss Aleph Cason, teaches school. The daughter was expecting her father's visit and was at the depot Saturday when the A. C. L. train arrived from Newbern, but no father appeared on the train. Miss Cason was uneasy over the situation, knowing that her father had left his home for that purpose and on Sunday, becoming thoroughly alarmed over the situation, she boarded the train for Newbern. Seated in the train and looking out of the window, when passing Northeast, a small station along the road, Miss Cason was startled by seeing her father seated on a log in the woods. Jumping up, she informed a gentleman on the train of the state of affairs and he had the conductor to stop the train. The train was brought to a stop and backed up to the place and Mr. Cason was found still sitting on the log very much wearied and hungry. The old gentleman was taken on the train and brought to this city where food and stimulants were given him and on the following morning he returned with his daughter. It seems that on his trip Saturday Mr. Cason alighted from the train near Northeast without any clear idea of why he did so, and wandered about in that vicinity until Sunday afternoon when his daughter miraculously saw and rescued him from certain exposure and starvation which would have claimed him.

DICK GAUSE TO ESCAPE.

Governor Will Probably Commute Sentence of New Hanover Negro.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 19.—Dick Gause, colored, of New Hanover county, is under sentence to be electrocuted Friday of this week for the murder of Ed Gibson, in Wilmington, but the trial judge, the solicitor and the members of the jury have joined in a recommendation that the Governor grant commutation to life imprisonment on account of extenuating circumstances and it is understood that this course will be taken by the Governor. This is one of the cases in which Judge Peebles severely criticised the court record in New Hanover in the matter of the failure of juries to convict for murder and ordered the case removed to Pender county where later there was conviction for first degree murder and sentence imposed for electrocution September 25th. Governor Kitchin granted a reprieve to September 22nd, and this is now about to terminate in commutation to life imprisonment on appeal of the judge, solicitor and jury.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. It's surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at R. R. Bellamy's.

ENGINEER BELL'S DEATH.

Fireman Says Brakes Wouldn't Work. Mr. Medley Passes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 19.—After an illness extending over about eight months, Mr. W. Done Medley, aged 35 years, died at an early hour yesterday morning at his home on Pender street. The funeral was held from the home on yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, following which interment was in Pineview cemetery. Mr. Medley was an Atlantic Coast Line engineer, and has seen many years service with this company. He is survived by a widow and one child, one brother, Mr. Glenn Medley, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Medley, all of this city.

It is a horrible story of wreckage and ruin attendant with a loss of the life of Engineer R. A. Bell, which occurred on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock near Smithfield, when southbound Fayetteville Local No. 315 went headlong into northbound freight No. 208. The first report that the dead engineer misread his orders and the statement of the railroad company that he "ran past the meeting point" is now stated to be incorrect, except in the fact that it was impossible to use the brakes to his train, despite every effort to even gain control in order to get his train to a standstill that it might take the siding as ordered. Fully eight-car lengths beyond the switch, where the southbound train was to have gone into the siding is where the accident occurred, and it is estimated that the trains went together while the southbound train was running 25 miles an hour, and the northbound train was slowly moving forward.

Shrieking his whistle for the train brakes, and vainly tugging at his throttle in a final effort to yet gain control, Engineer Bell called to his fireman to save himself by leaping, but he stuck to his post of duty on his engine and went to his death in the crash. It is a graphic description by the white fireman, Mr. Toler, who was the cab companion of the deceased, as he explains how for a brief time, that seemed like hours to him, the dead engineer made every effort to lessen the speed of the rapidly moving train and of how when he was last seen before the crash, he was still at this task.

This morning the remains were brought to this city and taken to the home of the deceased on Arlington street, having been met at the station here by a delegation of Odd Fellows, Masons and representatives from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Relatives from other points, including the bereaved father, who comes from Ottawa, Canada, are hurrying here to attend the funeral which will be held Thursday.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Will President Taft give us a good imitation of his return from Winona?

President Taft calls his Western trip a jaunt but Senator LaFollette acts like he considers it an invasion.

Says the Chicago News: "A woman who says she feels like a queen usually acts like a deuce." She doesn't care a deuce so long as a man who feels his oats is liable to get a thrashing.

What has become of the old-fashioned gentleman who was willing to admit that the boys of today remind him of the time when he was young and did stunts just like they are doing?

Wall Street gossips vouch for a rumor that Attorney General Wickersham proposes to resign. If President Taft smiles after he hears the rumor, it will be a sign that he thinks his luck has changed.

Says the Charleston Post of Saturday, "Yesterday in New York and in Washington and other fashion-bound towns, the straw hat became de trop," At the same time some last year's derbys became au fait.

The Dayton News says an Ohio man who has just returned from Paris reports that many American students there are trying to borrow money. That indicates that the students are clinging to a habit contracted at home.

Says the Norfolk Landmark: "Colonel Roosevelt says that Williams are always good boys. The recent interview with the other Colonel must have been very significant." Nevertheless, ain't they the boys that always swallow the mercury?

BRAZIL TO GROW COTTON.

Senor Jose de la Pereira, of Permanbucco, special commissioner of the Brazillian Government, was in Washington a few days ago, having been sent to the United States, says the Washington Post, to study the methods of planting, cultivating, ginning, and manufacture of cotton. After making a trip through the South for that purpose he will also visit Mexico and the Antilles. Speaking of the object of his visit, Senor Pereira said to a Post representative:

"Brazil is seeking to regain her position as one of the great cotton-producing countries of the world. In 1820 Brazill enjoyed the distinction of being the second largest cotton producing country in the world, the United States alone exceeding us in the the production of this article. The greater profits that came from raising sugar and coffee caused the planters to neglect the cultivation of cotton, and Brazil has steadily dropped behind, until now the production is comparatively small. In Pernambucoes, for instance, which state produces probably as much as any other in Brazil, the average crop does not exceed 150,000 bales. The Brazilian government has been brought to a realization that if the production of cotton is encouraged it will become one of the greatest industries, for no part of the world is better adapted to the growing of cotton. We have an ideal climate for the raising of cotton, and a vast territory. In late years it has become apparent to the people of Brazil that there is an overproduction of coffee, and with the view of encouraging the production of other crops to take the place of the decreased production of coffee, which must come, the government is endeavoring to educate the farmers in cotton growing."

We have often wondered that the South so long maintained her supremacy in cotton growing, for many portions of the subtropical countries of South America, Asia and Africa are capable of producting cotton. We have always contended, however, that the South remained the chief cotton growing country of the world because other countries lacked the superior transportation facilities of the South. The question of trained labor also is a tremendous factor in favor of the South, not to mention that no country where cotton can be ghown can equal the South in climate. However, it is labor and transportation that counts most in favor of the South and which always will make the South the leading cotton country. Even with cheaper labor in China, India, and South Africa, the question of transportation there practically has prevented the success of cotton growing in competition with the South. It would cost hundreds of millions of dollars to build railroad systems and establish waterways to equal those of the South, and until some other country rivals the South in its intelligent and trained labor and can get its product to the market with the same facility that we do in the South, this country need not seriously fear cotton growing experiments anywhere in the world.

It has been estimated that the South produces about two-thirds of the merchantable cotton of the world, yet late statistics are to the effect that the world actually produces 24,000,000 bales anually. If that is true the South really produces little more than half the world's crop. However, that estimate takes in the production of cotton in countries which do not produce enough for their own consumption but which draw on the South for most of their supplies. It behooves the South, however, to improve the quality of its cotton, adopt the best methods of cultivation, and pay more attention to grading and packing and preparing our cotton for the markets of the world.

There is great room for improvement and one of them is to standardize our bales and quit sending cotton to market in slouchy shape. Our cotton should also be preserved from weather damage after it is packed. Seed cotton should never be piled in a damp or wet state, for it not only injuries the staple but especially heats and damages the seed both as to their germinating qualities and their value for the manufacture of oil and other by-products. Cotton of different qualities should not be ginned together and the grades should be known and kept rigidly separate by the ginners if not by the growers. Growers have no conception of their losses from ginning and packing two grades of cotton together and generally, in the lack of care with which the crop is handled from the field to the market.

A great many people who have not been in the cotton growing country lately, are not aware that the ginning of cotton has been revolutionized in the last quarter of a century. Most all the plantations subsequent to the Civil War had their own horse or water-power gins, but most of the cotton growers now depend on custom ginning and packing plants which have large steam or electric power facilities and the latest improved gins that have greatly economized and facilitated the preparation of cotton for the market. We have seen batteries of these modern plants gin and pack a bale of cotton in from ten to twenty minutes from the time the grower arrived with his wagon of seed cotton. Of course, there are large farms which have their own plants and not only gin the crop grown on the larger plantations, but also gin for the public. The method has been so systematized, however, that unless a farmer is quite ar extensive cotton grower he cannot afford to have his own ginning plant. The large ginneries not only make the work more expeditious but more economical, rendering it unnecessary for small growers to maintain their own plants.

The cotton growing industry is not only an exceedingly interesting one, but its importance to the South is realized when it is stated that Secretary Hester of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange estimates the value of last year's crop at $1,000,300,000. If we would increase that great wealth of the South, and maintain our supremacy for production, we must lose no time in leading the world in our system of producing and marketing the cotton that clothes the world.

TAFT RECOGNIZES TRUSTS.

President Taft's "swing around the circle," has reached its interesting stage, since the Associated Press dispatches from Detroit on Monday tell us that in that city he "plunged into the political phase of his long trip through the West, and delivered one of the set speeches which may have a determining effect upon his future."

It will be noted that the President's first speech was upon the all important trust question, and in it he took pains to set himself right with the trusts. His speech was plainly a recognition of the trusts, inasmuch as he declared his dependence upon the "rule of reason" decision of the Supreme Court of the United States as sufficient to control the great industrial aggregations and corporations which do business in accordance with the trust system. As we say, he recognizes trusts, subject to control, as contra-distinctive from the demand of the Democratic party and the people that the trusts shall be utterly destroyed.

The President probably did well not to take issue with the Supreme Court, but that need not have led him into declaiming his unalterable opposition to amending the Sherman law in the event that it becomes necessary to destroy the trusts. The people know that so long as the tariff wall stands and the "rule of reason" prevails, the trusts will continue to do business. In his speech he clearly set himself right with predatory capital, but there was nothing in it to satisfy consumers who are preyed upon by the enormous monopolies of this country. Upon his trust position he certainly is not entitled to the support of the people, but there is every reason why the trusts should see that he is nominated and elected, if they can deliver the goods as of yore.

THE LIVE TOWN OF APEX.

The Star congratulates Editor W. N. Keener, of the Apex Journal, upon his splendid industrial edition under date of September 15th. For a town of no greater proportions than Apex, the undertaking of an edition so elaborate and excellent is a decided stroke of enterprise. However, Apex is a live and enterprising town, and it takes just such a progressive editor as Keener to appreciate and magnify its possibilities.

His industrial edition was handsomely illustrated, and we confess the Journal was the means of astonishing us with its array of handsome homes and its exploitation of the industrial and business growth of the town. Apex signifies the top-notch of something, and its significance, so far as the Journal's town is concerned, is that this delightful place is located on the highest ground on the Raleigh and Augusta Air Line (3. A. L.), an advantage which gives it a pure atmosphere and healthful environs.

That thrifty and ambitious town is in Wake county and it is surrounded by a country that is both picturesque and rich in resources. There is little wonder that it is "The Town of Opportunities," and what makes it so is its splendid location, its enterprising business men, and a newspaper that not only believes in its town but eckes occasion to proclaim its numerout advantages. Apex furnishes a fine example of the rapid development of the eligibly situated towns of the incomparable State of North Carolina.

Maine was closely divided between those who wanted to get it in the open and those who were satisfied to let well enough alone. The vote in Maine may eliminate prohibition but home influence and the pulpit remain to inculcate temperance and bring about the real solution of the whiskey problem. If there were more appeal to the conscience and less to the ballot, whiskey consumption wouldn't outstrip the growth of population.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Taft made a great speech at Winona once upon a time. He is not going there on his present trip.—Norfolk Landmark.

The Wilmington Star asks: "What has become of the old-fashioned girl who wore cork-screw curls and tossed her head from one side to the other so the curls would giggle-waggle underneath her chin?" She may be coming back. Who knows? Have you noticed that they have again begun to part their hair in the middle, and how sweeter than ever they look, by reason thereof?—Charlotte Chronicle.

Wilmington Star: How came President Taft to be so thoughtless as to once declare that the woolen tariff was too high, without having first consulted the Tariff Board as to what he should say about it? Doesn't he know that neither Congress nor the President should mess around in tariff matters when the Tariff Board is liable any day to hatch out a scientific conglomeration of the whole question." The President was clearly inconsistent in expressing any opinion on this question before his board of tariff was heard from. This is not the first time he has erred in this particular way. The ink of his signature approving the Payne-Aldrich bill was not dry when he pronounced it the best tariff law ever enacted and the tariff board had not seen it—Petersburg-Index Appeal.

The North Carolina Board of Health makes an announcement in the July issue of its monthly bulletin that it will reduce the size of future issues from 60 to 24 or 30 pages. This has been made necessary by the small appropriation made by the Legislature for the maintenance of the board and its expenses, and more especially by the increased demand of the people of the State for the bulletin. It would seem that the interest of the people of the State has increased very greatly in matters of health. This is probably in some degree due to the increased city life in the State, and the progress in the general cause of health. Mr. W. S. Rankin, M. D., is secretary of the board, with headquarters in Raleigh.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The railroads should not be "gouged" in the matter of taxation. They should be made to pay upon a fair assessment. But they should not be discriminated against. If other property is to pay taxes upon only half its value, or less, as it testified to be the case in some instances, then the railroads and other big corporations should be treated the same way. But that is not the remedy. The thing to do is to get the other property assessed upon a fair estimation of its value. Until that is done, there will always be unjust and unequal taxation. It is a big question both for the corporation commission and the people of the State. We hope, in the present contention, the commission will be able to do justice to the railroads, and the State, where disgracefully low assessments are shown.—Raleigh Times.

"Farmers of this country are very much behind those of Europe in their methods of cultivation," declared William Rehm, of New York and New Orleans, member of a seed and plant firm, who spends a great part of his time traveling in Europe, at the Raleigh. "Ten acres of farm land in almost any country of Europe will produce as much as 100 acres in this country. It is all due to the more scientific farming methods employed by the Europeans. The only reason we are prosperous here is because of the wonderful fertility of our soil, and our inexhaustible acres. The farmers of Denmark, for instance, have been using scientific farming methods for a hundred years. They give constant attention to their crops, and do not merely plant them and wait for them to mature, as many of our farmers do. Anywhere in Europe, on the farms, one may see men and women working in the fields, while in this country you may ride for miles and miles on a train and not see a single person. We are learning over here, learning rapidly, but it will be a long time before our farmers know how to get the best results from their lands."—Washington Post.

Not Literally

Gov. Dix, at a dinner in Albany, said of a disappointed political worker:

"He made the mistake of taking his leader's promises literally. He was like the puzzled young wife, who said: "'I always understood that George was very fond of the turf, and yet, all Summer long, I haven't been able to get him to touch the lawnmower.'"—Washington Star.

Wheeling, W. Va., Sept. 18.—The case of Laura Farnsworth Schenk, whose trial on a charge of poisoning John O. Schenk, a millionaire packer resulted in a disagreement, again came up in criminal court today. Neither Mrs. Schenk nor her husband, who recovered from his illness, were present. At the request of the prosecution the case was continued until November.

Married and Unmarried Ladies

Will Find Some Useful Advice in the Words of Mrs. Jay McGee of Stephenville.

Stephenville, Tex.—"For nine years," says Mrs. Jay McGee, of this place, "I suffered from womanly troubles. I had terrible headaches and pains in my back, etc.

My husband suggested Cardui to me, but I did not think anything would do me any good.

It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so! At last, I consented to try Cardui, and it seemed to help me right away. I was interested and continued its use.

The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me.

It will do the same for all sick and suffering girls or women—both married and unmarried.

I will always praise Cardui highly, for it has been the means of saving my life and giving me good health."

Half a century of success, with thousands of cures, similar to the one described above, amply prove Cardui's real, scientific, medicinal merit.

Being purely vegetable, Cardui can be taken safely by young and old, and can do nothing but good. Its action is very gentle and without any bad after effects.

Why not benefit by the experience of others? Try it, today.

MR. T. T. LACKEY DROWNED.

News of Distressing Tragedy Reaches This City From Currie.

News was received here yesterday of a most distressing tragedy at Currie Monday afternoon, when Mr. T. T. Lackey, a well known and highly esteemed citizen of that community, was drowned in Black River. Mr. Lackey and his son, Henry, were fishing from a boat and in some way the craft capsized, Mr. Lackey being drowned, but his son escaped. The body had not been recovered up to a late hour Monday night, when The Star's informant left the scene, although a large number of citizens of Currie were making a systematic search for it with the hope of finding it before morning. Mr. Lackey was 63 years old and leaves a wife and several children, who will have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their crushing sorrow.

Young Mothers

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

THE AMERICAN AEROPLANE CO.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders--Reports Received and Officers Elected—Motors to Arrive. Financial Report.

With practically all the stock represented, the annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Aeroplane Company was held in Germania Hall Monday morning. Encouraging reports were received from the officers of the company and following the transaction of some other business the directors for the ensuing year were elected. The directors, later in the day, met and elected officers.

It was announced yesterday that the motors for the first machine constructed according to the invention of Mr. David Palmgren, of this city, had been shipped and would arrive here tomorrow or soon thereafter. With the exception of the motors the machine is practically complete. Some days will be required in assembling the parts and then the first flight will be attempted. Mr. Palmgren has no doubt but that the machine will fly and feels that it will be a greater success by far than any other aeroplane yet invented.

The following are the directors elected: Messrs. David Palmgren, F. A. Bissinger, F. P. Meier, C. H. Dock, A. O. Schuster, J. H. Hinton and C. D. Weeks, Esq.

The directors met and elected officers as follows, each person on the directorate being given an office: President, David Palmgren; first vice president, A. O. Schuster; second vice president, J. H. Hinton; secretary, C. D. Weeks, Esq.; treasurer, C. H. Dock; general manager, F. A. Bissinger; general agent, F. P. Meier.

Mr. C. H. Dock, treasurer, submitted his report of the financial standing of the company, up to and including September 18th, as follows: Under head of debits: Capitalization 25,000 shares at $5 par value, $125.000; donation from Mr. F. A. Bissinger for a construction fund, 4,000 shares which according to a contract guarantee by Mr. C. H. Dock realized $5,000; profits from management of the construction fund donated by D. Palmgren and F. P. Meier in cash, outstanding bills and shares at par value on September 1st, 1911, $5,289.84; income from transfers, $2.50, a total of $135,292.34. Under head of credits: Purchase of aeroplane invention, $112,500; deposits with Adams Co., Ohio, $1,200; expenses of the construction fund to date, including cost of patents, $6,663.76; cash on hand and in banks, $1,357.07; bills for collection and unsold shares at par, $12,783.10; company's expenses, $788.41, a total of $135,292.34.

The report of the retiring secretary, Mr. David Palmgren, deals largely with the management of the construction fund. The following of interest is taken from the report:

"The construction work has proceeded so far that after a few days more work the installation of the motors will be necessary before proceeding with the upper work of the machine.

"A letter from the motor makers was received yesterday giving the 21st of this month as the time when they could deliver the two motors completely ready.

"After the arrival of the motors, probably by the end of this month, a few weeks more will be necessary to complete the machine, attach the wingplanes, etc., whereafter the tuning up and experimental flying of the aeroplane will take place on the company's experimental grounds.

"The activity in sale of shares has been exclusively managed by the construction fund during the preceding 12 months, and the company's treasury stock remains the same as at the time of my last report.

"The financial standing of the company, as is seen by the treasurer's report, is excellent, considering the difficulties that could be expected with an undertaking of this nature, and the experiment of financing the construction work for the company by a private firm has proved an unqualified success, which is in the greatest measure due to the efficiency and faithful assistance given by Mr. Frank P. Meier.

"I recommend that the thanks of the company be extended to Mr. Meier and that his services be secured for the future by inviting him to accept the office of General Agent for the American Aeroplane Company."

AT FERNSIDE.

Another Day of Unparalleled Activity at New Suburban Place.

"Fernside lots," were again the sensational feature of the real estate market in Wilmington yesterday and the offices of Messrs. D. R. Foster & Co., on Princess street, were besieged with inquiries about this new suburb and the opportunities for investment there.

Mr. E. J. W. Anders has the contract for laying out, grading the lots and generally improving the property and a large force of hands continued work yesterday with the result that the new town-site presented very much of a metropolitan appearance. About 25 additional lots went the way of 40 others yesterday and the end is not yet, according to Messrs. Foster & Co., who were busy marking off the sales on the plat in their office yesterday. Among yesterday's purchasers may be mentioned Chas. C. Loughlin, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, who took a couple; Mr. J. Haughton James, who was not satisfied with less than the same number; Mr. W. J. Bradshaw, the furniture dealer, who reserved four and Col. Walker Taylor, the well known insurance man, who took one and Mr. J. Holmes Davis, who readily took a couple of them. At the sensationally low price at which these lots have been placed for quick sale, the small investors are flocking to the sale and the larger ones are allowing no grass to grow under their feet.

JEWISH NEW YEAR FRIDAY

Will Be Celebrated in Wilmington as in Other Places Where There Are Jewish People—Special Services.

The Jewish New Year, which begins Friday evening of this week and continues until sundown Saturday, will be observed by the Jewish people of Wilmington with special services as usual. Preparations for the observance of the festival are now under way and the hour of services, etc., at the Temple of Israel will be announced later in the week. This marks the beginning of the Jewish year 5672.

The season is one of introspection, repentance and supplication for forgiveness, and for the forming of good resolutions for doing one's duty to God and man. The services in the synagogue are very impressive and distinguished by the blowing of the Shofar or Ram's Horn.

The day is known by four different names—the New Year Rosh Hashana; The Day of Judgment, Yome-Ha--Deen; a Day of Memorial, Yoma-Ha-See-Koron, and a day of the Blowing of the Cornet, Yome Terovah. The significance of each is interesting and instructive and inclines the justly minded to lead a life of devotion, piety, submission to the will of the Maker, and to deeds of charity and benevolence towards his fellow beings.

As a rule men of sterling character are selected to officiate as readers on these days, and on the Day of Atonement men gifted with fine and well-trained voices and men of learning who intone their prayers with pius intent supplicate and appeal for forgiveness for themselves and their congregation, inspiring hope and good courage for the future.

Rosh Hashana touches the hearts of the Children of Israel as does no other of the festivals and holidays. It is known as the day of the blowing of the trumpets, which is also the seventh new moon of the Hebrew calendar. The blowing of the trumphet is a reminder to the Israelite that a new period of time is begun. It is a day of memorial, when Israel feels himself held by God in rememberance.

The Biblical basis for the observance of the first day of Tishri as a New Year's day and the most solemn day of the Jewish calendar next to Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement is found in the reference to Zikharon ("memorial day") in Leviticus xxii:24, which reads:

"In the seventh month, in the first day of the month shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation."

Ezra also refers to the day as one "hold to the Lord," (Nehemiah viii:9).

Not a mere day of rejoicing, like the secular New Year, is this Rosh Hashana. It is a day of memorial or a day of rememberance, reminding the Jew of the duty of self-examination and self-judgment. To arouse the conscience to this solemn task the ceremony of sounding the shofar or ram's horn forms an important feature of the service.

In latter years a custom has appeared of sending to friends New Year's greeting cards of various designs, colors and inscriptions. When the earnest devotions of the day are done, the festival is made an occasion of social and domestic rejoicing.

The Day of Atonement or Yom Kippur, which marks the culminating point of the Hebrew penitential season, is distinguished by the abstention of food and by an elaborate ceremonial. The purpose of the Day of Atonement is clearly indicated by its name. It is intended to complete and crown the penitential season, begun on the first of Tishuri (New Year), by finally reconciling the soul with the Almighty The day is spent in prayer and meditation. It is kept, too, as a fast.

The Feast of Tabernacles will be celebrated also during this period. It is called in Hebrew Succoth, and lasts eight days, the last being called the Day of Solemn Assembly. It is also known as the "feast of the ingathering." The latter name signifies the agricultural nature of the feast."

SCHOONER LIBELLED.

Master of Tug Tormentor Attaches Vessel for Salvage Claim.

As will be seen by official notice elsewhere in today's Star, Capt. Geo. V. Downey, master, and the owners, the American Towing and Lighterage Co., of Baltimore, have libelled the schooner James Davidson, her furniture, tackle, apparel, etc., to satisfy the salvage claim of the tug Tormentor, which recently towed the vessel into Southport after the recent storm. Any persons claiming the vessel are cited to appear and make claim to the same in the United States Court. The vessel is lying at Southport in a waterlogged condition and the master's interest in her is understood to have been recently purchased by Messrs. Stone &' Co., of this city, of course, subject to the claim for salvage. Deputy Marshal C. O. Knox yesterday took possession of the vessel and appurtenances at Southport, subject to the orders of the court.

Will Be Examined Today.

Instead of being tried in the Recorder's court yesterday morning on a charge of assault with deadly weapon because he leveled a shot gun at a lady on South Front street Monday afternoon, Fred Bennett, colored, will be given hearing before the Clerk of Superior Court today at noon relative to his sanity. Bennett has been to the State Hospital at Goldsboro at least one time before and maybe twice is his record. At times he appears to be perfectly rational in full possession of his faculties, but at other times his conduct is that of a maniac.

Field's Minstrels Parade.

"Bigger and brighter than ever" the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels will arrive here today on the Seaboard Air Line train from Raleigh and immediately thereafter the parade will take place along the principal streets of the city. Mr. S. A. Schloss returned to the city yesterday from Raleigh and stated that the house was completely sold out there last night.

NEGRO JOY RIDERS IN JAIL

Men Who Wrecked Dr. Harriss' New E. M. F. Car Arrested Soon Afterwards — Both Were in His Employ

Fred Simpson and Empie Loftin, two negroes, who in company with three negro women, wrecked Dr. A. H. Harriss' new E. M. F. touring car on the shell road near Delgado early yesterday morning, were arrested by Constable Savage, assisted by Magistrate Harriss, a few hours after the machine had crashed into a tree and plunged off the road into the ditch

Simpson was arrested on Fifth street, between Dawson and Wright, about 4 o'clock, Police Officers R. S. Haddock and H. G. Bullard assisting in the arrest, and Loftin was arrested by Constable Savage on a suburban car between the city and Wrightsville Sound about 6:30. The negroes are now in jail in default of $400 bond each, awaiting a preliminary hearing. They are indicted under special statute No. 3509, of the Pell's Revisal of 1908, which makes the temporary theft of a horse, vehicle, or conveyance of any kind a felony, with a punishment of from four to ten years in the penitentiary. Simpson has engaged W. r. Gafford, Esq., to defend him and upon the request of Mr Gafford, who is at Whiteville on business, the hearing has been postponed until he returns tc the city. If probable cause is found at the hearing, the case will go over to the Superior Court, as the Recorder would not have jurisdiction.

The negroes were both in the employ of Dr. Harriss, Simpson here in the city and Loftin at the doctor's home on the Sound. The car which was wrecked was in the city, and they evidently stole it out for the purpose of giving their female friends a joy ride. When the car plunged off the road into the ditch near Delgado, the negroes, who apparently escaped injury by a miracle, immediately left the scene. Dr. Harriss was notified and his brother, Justice Geo. Harriss, also learned of the accident. With Constable Savage, Magistrate Harriss went to the scene and started the search for the boys. They surmised that Simpson would be the guilty party and with Policemen Bullard and Haddock they made a search in ie city, finally locating their man.

Finding no trace of Loftin in the city Mr. Harriss and Constable Savage went to Wrightsville Sound and searched several houses but failed to locate him. Constable Savage then decided to come to the city and meet the first car outward bound, thinking he would find his man on that car. His deductions proved to be correct and when he stepped off the inward bound car to the other one Loftin was a passenger on it. He had spent the remainder of the night in the city and taken the first car to the Sound.

The wrecked car was brought to the city yesterday and taken to Dr. Harriss' garage, at his home at No. 609 Dock street. When he returns from his Summer home at "Summer Rest" he will have it examined by an expert and have the necessary repairs made. In the meantime he is using his new E. M. F. runabout, which he ran to the city for the first time Tuesday morning when he received word of the accident.

The search for the three negro women who were in the car with Simpson and Loftin is being kept up and Dr. Harriss will spare no expense to locate them also.

The negroes obtained the car by breaking two locks on his garage, where the machine was stored during his stay on the Sound. Simpson has been in the employ of Dr. Harriss for five years and has always been found trustworthy before.

GREEK VICE-CONSUL.

Mr. D. G. Vafiadi Named to Fill Important Post in Carolinas.

Greeks and many of other nationalities will learn with interest that the government of Greece has created the post of vice-consul for North and South Carolina and will be pleased to know that Mr. D. G. Vafiadi, of this city, has been appointed to fill the important office. Mr. Vafiadi received official notice of the appointment yesterday from his Excellency, L. Caftandjoglou, ambassador from Greece at Washington, and the proper credentials will be forwarded in a few days.

Mr. Vafiadi was informed unofficially some weeks ago that the Foreign Office at Athens had acted favorably upon the petition of the Greeks of the Carolinas that they be given a consul, and that Mr. Vafiadi, recognized as the leader of the Greeks in the Carolinas, be named to fill the important post. Publication of the fact was made in Athens, and in due course came the official announcement yesterday from Washington.

For six years Mr. Vafiadi has been a resident of Wilmington, having come to this city with the first colonists who came to settle St. Helena, and is bookkeeper for the Chadbourn Sash, Door & Lumber Co. He is a man of splendid educational qualifications, has a thorough understanding of diplomatic relations, of which he has made a study, a man of influence not only among his people but with all with whom he comes in contact, and withal is a most affable and polished gentleman. His hundreds of friends in this city will be pleased to learn of the appointment. The Greeks of the two States should feel proud that they have such a man in the Carolinas to represent them.

CONFERENCE ON SEWERAGE

Counsel Will Call in Friends to Aid in Solving the Question—Other Matters Before Council Yesterday.

Desiring to have the benefit of the counsel of some of their friends to aid them in a delicate situation to the end that they will make no mistake in their settlement of the matter, the City Council, in regular weekly session yesterday afternoon, decided to request four or five representative business men to meet with them this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in a conference on the mooted sewerage question.

It is hoped that the net result of the conference will be final settlement of the question within the next few days. Not only is there a crying need for an enlarged sewerage system, but the delay in deciding what is to be done, is holding up the permanent street work on Front street.

The Council yesterday afternoon received the following communication from Iredell Meares, Esq., attorney for the bondholders of the Wilmington Sewerage Company, with regard to the bondholders' position in the proposed purchase of the existing plant:

"Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 19, 1911.
"To the City Council;
"Gentlemen:—The Wilmington Sewerage Company and its bondholders are entirely agreeable:

"1. To arbitrate the value of its plant and sell to the city at the arbitrated price, if the city will bind itself, in advance, to buy at the arbitrated price and is prepared to do so.

"2. To submit to the condemnation of its plant to the public use, under the recent act of the Legislature, which after all, is only a prescribed method of arbitration, for, I take it, the courts will not permit the proceeding to condemn to proceed without assurances that the city is prepared to buy.

"In fact, this has been what my clients have always preferred, if we could not agree upon terms, without arbitration, having as far back as October, 1908, offered to do so by letter addressed to the corporate authorities. They prefer to do so now and, if they suffer by it, they will sustain their loss, if any, and quit the situation.

"It was at my suggestion to them that the city did not have the money to buy, or, if it arranged to buy, did not have the money to enlarge the system, that they offered to build immediately a completed system under the plan heretofore submitted.

"These propositions will remain open for a reasonable time longer, although my clients feel they have been before you since May 30, 1911, and their final acceptance or rejection should be determined; so that, if rejected, the company or its bondholders may carry into effect some plan for increasing its present connections and revenues and placing its present system upon a more profitable basis. Later, then, if this were done, we would be justified in asking an equivalent in value commensurate with its enhanced worth.

"It may be worth while to state for your consideration, if you should accept our proposition to build immediately a completed system wherever water mains are now laid;

"1. Instead of waiting to convey the system after it has been completed, we could by deed, vest title in the city at once, as to the existing system and the completed system when built, while the work of enlargement was going on, thus enabling the city to require all connections along the route to be made immediately to the existing system.

"2. There are some 1,500 connections that can be made at once to the present system above the number it now has in use. The city or company owning any system usually pays the cost of laying the connecting pipe from the sewer main to the curbstone while the remainder is paid by the party owning the property or wishing to use the system. Our experience has been that these lateral connections average about $10 per connection. It would require therefore, an outlay of ten to fifteen thousand more or less to make all the connections now possible to the present plant. This is an item that either the company or the city, if it owned the plant, would have to pay. Of course, it would make that more valuable the plant. This work and expense, if we build under the plan proposed, could be done to the present system as part of the cost of the whole outlay, and the city be relieved thereby of the immediate expense, which it would have to incur, if it owned the present system and exercise its police power to compel the connections. In addition, in anticipation of the city's requiring all service closets to be connected with the sewer system to be built, the connecting pipes from main to curbstone could be laid in the new sections as the work of building progresses at greater convenience and at less cost. All of which would be included under the plan proposed as a part of the aggregate cost of the work.

"Yours truly,
"IREDELL MEARES,
"Attorney for Bondholders."

At the conclusion of the reading of the communication, Councilman Perdew inquired if it is decided to arbitrate the value of the plant would the bondholders be willing to sell the plant to the city at the arbitrated price and give the municipality a number of years in which to pay the amount. No one seemed to be in position to answer the inquiry. Councilman B. C. Moore went across the hall and returned with blue prints of the plans for a completed system as prepared by the firm of Hazelhurst & Anderson, consulting engineers, and endeavored to show that for $210,000, the estimated cost, according to the plans, the city could lay three times as many miles of sewer as the plant which the bondholders are offering to sell the city for $160,000. Councilman Tiencken inquired if the engineers would guarantee that the system that they had planned could be constructed for $210,000, and Councilman B. C. Moore replied that he did not think so. Councilman Perdew said that he had asked the city attorney if it would be of any advantage to the city to arbitrate under the law and that he replied that he thought it would be, though he would look up the matter. Mr. McClammy could not find copies of the laws of 1911 at the time, so will probably give his opinion later. In the meantime, or rather, while Mr. McClammy was endeavoring to find the law, Councilman P. Q. Moore suggested that the Council go into a conference with some of the business men before taking final action on the question. He later put this in the form of a motion and, seconded by Councilman Perdew, it was adopted, and the conference was fixed for 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. However, the action was not unanimous, for Mayor Smith voted contrariwise on the ground that he believed it the duty of the Council to thresh out such questions and not to leave them to the citizens to determine. The Mayor was reminded that the Council would not have to be governed by what is done at the conference, but still he declined to vote for the conference, but will attend.

Bonds were received from the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., Murchison National Bank, People's Savings Bank and the American National Bank, each of which has some of the city funds on deposit. The bonds had been approved by the city attorney and were accepted.

Mayor Smith called to the attention of the Council the importance of immediate action relative to the proposed improvement of Macomber's ditch, which, according to physicians, has long been a menace to the health of the community. The Mayor said that he was informed that the bill passed by the last Legislature relative to the matter makes it mandatory upon the Council to make the improvement. The city attorney was asked his opinion and he said that he would give a "horse-back" opinion to the effect that he could not see how the Legislature had the power to declare the place a nuisance. After some discussion of the matter it was ordered that the city engineer be instructed to proceed at once to prepare estimates of the cost of improving Macomber's ditch and report to the Council his results as soon as possible.

The Council received a request from a widow to be relieved of the payment of interest and costs on back taxes, amounting to about $30. Some of the taxes has been due since 1885. Advised by the city attorney that it has no right to relieve one of the payment of interest and costs on taxes, the Council declined to grant the request.

Acting favorably upon a largely signed petition a deep well was ordered drilled at corner 14th and Queen streets, upon motion of Councilman Perdew.

The slop and carrion contract came up for further consideration yesterday. At the last meeting a form of contract was read and adopted and Mayor Smith was authorized to sign it on the part of the city. The contractors, Furlong & Co., asked that the word "small" be inserted before carrion and this was acceptable to the health department, as there is an ordinance compelling the owners to haul off their carcases of horses, cows, etc. However, Mayor Smith would not sign the contract with the word inserted, preferring that the Council consider it as amended. After some discussion it was decided to defer action, Dr. Nesbitt being instructed to ascertain in the meantime what Furlong & Co., regard "small carrion" as meaning.

Mayor Smith inquired if it were going to be the policy of the street department to require property owners to put down granolithic sidewalks where the street in front of their property has been improved, and was informed that an ordinance covering this was adopted at the last meeting. Councilman P. Q. Moore said that it is his idea to have uniform sidewalks.

Councilman Tiencken said that he desired that all advertising and printing for the city be done through the Department of Finance and Account and receive the O. K. of the city clerk and treasurer.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that he had three horses in the police department which are lame. Two of them would be worth $500 if they were not lame and Councilman Moore thought it well to try to nurse them back to their normal condition. But as for the third he considers it too far gone for good service in the police department and recommended that it be used in the scavenger work. This brought up a discussion of purchasing teams and other equipment for doing the sanitary closet scavenger work. The purchase of the equipment was finally authorized.

Health Measures Adopted.

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, said that a few days ago he indicted two scavengers for burying refuse in a person's yard in the city limits, but after the arrests had been made it was found there was no law to reach them. Therefore he desired the adoption of an ordinance covering such cases, which was done in the following:

"Whereas, certain practices now existing in the city of Wilmington are a serious menace to the public health, therefore be it ordained by the Council of the city of Wilmington as a measure immediately necessary for the preservation of public health:

"Sec. 1. That on and after the date of the passage of this ordinance, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to deposit upon the surface or bury beneath the surface of the soil within the limits of the city of Wilmington, any human excrement, carrion, putrid or decaying animal matter of any sort whatsoever.

"Sec. 2. It shall also be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to bury beneath the soil within the limits of the city of Wilmington any carcass or body or any part thereof.

"Sec. 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined $50 for each and every offense, or imprisoned for not less than thirty days.

"All ordinances or parts of ordinances heretofore passed by the Council of the city of Wilmington in conflict with this ordinance, are hereby repealed."

Councilman P. Q. Moore said that he is having Jacob's Run, which has recently caused considerable trouble, cleaned out. He asked that the man who is doing the work be allowed $35 as extra compensation. This was done.

Councilman P. Q. Moore again brought to the attention of the Council questions that have been asked him as to why Mr. John J. Fowler, chief of police, does not wear the regulation uniform, which the Council requested Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of that department, have him wear, some two or three months ago. Councilman B. C. Moore said that he did not know any reason why Mr. Fowler would not wear a uniform and that if the Council would say what kind of uniform he would take steps to secure it. Councilman P. Q. Moore replied that the people wanted him to wear a blue uniform and brass buttons and that he might have a little gold braid stripes on the sleeves if he desired. Councilman B. C. Moore could not understand why it is that Councilman P. Q. Moore gets so many complaints while the Councilman in charge of the police department has heard no objection. In this connection Councilman B. C. Moore said he thought now a good time to advertise for bids for Winter uniforms for the police and firemen and other members of the Council seemed to agree with him.

Whiskey Storage License.

Councilman Tiencken said that he wanted the Council to pass an ordinance requiring the payment of a tax for the storage of whiskey in the city limits, placing it in the same class as powder on the ground that it is a combustible substance. He favors a tax of not more than $300 a year for the privilege of storing whiskey anywhere in the city. He said that he would not vote for a tax if it is proposed to make it as much as $1,000 a year. Mayor Smith agreed with him that the Council should draft an ordinance requiring a tax for storage of whiskey. In fact, the Mayor has been talking about the matter for several days, Councilman Tiencken incidentally referred to the fact that the police are doing absolutely nothing toward the enforcement of the inspection law adopted two months ago to aid the officers in running down those violating the prohibition law. The whiskey storage license ordinance may be brought up at the next meeting.

By the vote of Councilman P. Q. Moore and Tiencken and Mayor Smith permission was granted Mr. S. A. Schloss, lessee of the Academy of Music, to put up a large bill board

The Chapter will have one more meeting before the State convention. The president requests that all delegates who will not be able to attend the convention will please inform her as early as possible.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION

Regular Monthly Meeting Yesterday —Routine Business — Splendid Reports From Rural Schools

The County Board of Education met in postponed regular session yesterday afternoon at the Court House with Chairman J. O. Carr presiding, and other members of the board, Messrs. Chas. E. Taylor, Jr., and J. G. L. Gieschen; Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent, and Mr. H. McL. Green, county treasurer, in attendance. After the audit of the books of Mr. Green the board took up and considered a number of matters pertaining to the schools in the county

Mr. J. O. Brown, a committeeman in East Wilmington, district No. 7, appeared before the body and asked that an annex be built to the school house and another teacher employed in order to accomodate all the children who desire to attend school there. Mr. Brown urged the board to take favorable action. Some new patent desks were received yesterday for the school. Miss Frances Henshaw is the teacher in East Wilmington this year. Prof. Callett was instructed to make an investigation of the need of the increased facilities and report at a later meeting.

Prof. Catlett reported to the board the arrival of the patent desks for the school to be opened at Winter Park Garden. The desks will be sent to Winter Park and it is hoped to open school there next Monday. Prof. Catlett reported progress on the colored school building at Rock Hill which is being erected to take the place of the one that was burned some weeks ago..

The board decided to make arrangements by which supplies for the schools may be purchased at wholesale prices, thus saving the county a considerable amount

Having visited nearly all of the 25 or 26 rural schools in the county, Prof. Catlett reported the enrollment gratifyingly large. At practically every school visited the enrollment is larger than last year with bright prospects for splendid average attendance.

A number of matters pertaining to the schools were discussed informally and it was late in the afternoon when the meeting adjourned.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Councilman P. Q. Moore expects to leave this afternoon for a visit to Norfolk, Va.

—Herbert McClammy, Esq., returned yesterday morning from a professional trip to Baltimore.

—Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, of Currie, was in the city yesterday and was being pleasantly greeted by his many Wilmington friends.

—Yesterday's Fayetteville Observer: "Mrs. G. A. Jones and son, Lawrence, of Wilmington, are visiting Mrs. W. J. Boone, on Winslow street."

—Mr. H. B. Connolly, of the local United States Engineer's office, returned yesterday from Virginia, where he spent his annual leave of absence.

—Hon. H. L. Godwin, of Dunn, was among yesterday's arrivals in the city on a business trip. Mr. Godwin is looking well and was greeted by his many friends in Wilmington most cordially yesterday.

—Among the guests at The Southern yesterday were: J. W. Davis and R. P. Gibson, Rocky Mount; J. B. Blackman and Lenor Blackman, Boardman; C. H. Zibelin, Currie; R. W. Henderson, Hubert; S. L. Bradshaw, Rose Hill; W. B. Burney, Clarkton; J. L. James, Sloan; Dr. B. T. Atkins, Councils.

—Dr. James W. Powell returned yesterday from a pleasant vacation of two weeks spent in the mountains of western North Carolina and has resumed his practice in his dental offices in the Garrell building. Friends of Dr. Powell will be delighted to know that he greatly enjoyed his vacation and was much improved in health by the change.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Little of Interest in Yesterday's Session—Justice Harriss Presided.

Many and of small consequence were the cases in the Recorder's court yesterday presided over by Substitute Recorder Geo. Harriss. None of the offenders was charged with any serious wrong-doing and the session was almost devoid of interest.

Edna Stewart, of the underworld, was tried on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in the form of a hair brush upon one of her female companions. Judgment was reserved until Thursday.

Richard Nelson, colored, charged with violating the driving ordinance, was let off with costs. Minnie Clark, colored, was taxed $10 and the costs for disorderly conduct. Russell Spicer paid the costs for driving an unlicensed cart. A case charging Arthur Gary, colored, with assault and battery, was nol prossed. Hattie Simpson, colored, charged with running a bawdy house, was found to be not guilty. The case charging Mr. A. D. Wessell with a violation of the sanitary ordinances was left open until Thursday. A number of other cases were continued and several plain, unvarnished drunks were assessed the usual amount.

Negroes Waive Examination.

In the counter cases of G. W. Maige, and J. A Riggs, colored, each charging the other with assault with a deadly weapon, both men waived examination before Justice Harriss yesterday and the case went over to the Recorder, where it will probably be tried today. Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy is defending Maige and prosecuting Riggs, while L. Clayton Grant, Esq., is prosecuting Biggs and defending Maige.

HOUSE-BREAKER IS ARRESTED

Police Think They Caught Joseph Myles "With the Goods On"— Two Other Robberies Come to Light.

Joseph Myles, colored, was arrested yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at Chadbourn's mill, where he was employed, by Officers J. S. Lane and J. H. Davis on a warrant charging him with housebreaking. He was brought to the police station and locked up, and armed with a search warrant the officers went to his boarding house and found several articles said to have been taken from the house he is alleged to have broken into and robbed. He will probably be tried before the Recorder this morning.

Noah Hobbs, colored, reported to the police Monday evening that his home on Wooster street, between Third and Fourth, had been entered during the afternoon through a window and that an umbrella, a watch, one gold bracelet, an automatic revolver and $13.25 in cash had been taken. He stated that a colored woman living next door had seen Myles trying to enter the front door and had watched him go around the house before losing sight of him. Not knowing that there was nobody at home, she paid no further attention to the man at the time.

The officers were furnished with a description of the negro and they had no trouble in locating him. When he was locked up at police headquarters a search warrant was procured and his boarding house, at 612 South Eighth street, was searched. The stolen umbrella and the gold bracelet were found, but the other articles could not be located. Myles said that he found the umbrella and bracelet on an excursion train which was run on Labor Day and on which he was acting as porter.

As the crime occurred in day time burglary could not be charged, so the warrant under which he was arrested charged him only with house-breaking.

Two other robberies which have occurred during the last few days came to light yesterday, although no official report of either was made to the police.

The first occurred at the home of Mr. W. A. Martin, No. 520 Dock street, early Sunday morning when someone entered the house and secured a sum of money amounting to about $6 from the pockets of Mr. Martin's trousers. Nothing else of value was missed and the robber left no clue.

The other robbery was of rather a bolder nature even than many of those which occurred during the last three or four months. It occurred during the day at the office of Mr. H. J. Spooner at the foot of Nun street. The robber or robbers forced the lock on Mr. Spooner's door and carried away a large desk in which were a number of Mr. Spooner's papers and business records. No clue was left here either.

LOCAL DOTS.

—In a suit started in the Superior Court here, entitled Tidewater Power Company and M. D. Felton vs. Bonas Jacobs, et al, claims and delivery papers were issued to the Sheriff of Columbus county to be served on the defendant for the recovery of two mules and a lumber wagon.

—Dan. Cameron, white, was arrested last night by Officer H. G. Bullard, on a warrant charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. C. M. Littleton alleges that Mr. Cameron pointed a shot gun at him and threatened to take his life. The case will probably be heard before the Recorder this morning.

—Isham Johnson, colored, was arrested last night by Officer W. H. Rhinebark, who alleges that the negro was trying to break into a building on an alley near the wharf. He said that the negro was walking around, trying the different windows. The negro claims that he was trying to open a bottle of beer.

—A petition was put in circulation here yesterday for the purpose of obtaining names enough to justify asking Governor Kitchin to pardon Walter Way, a young white man of this city, who is serving a sentence for manslaughter, for causing the death of another young man. It is said that quite a number of persons are signing the petition.

CAPE FEAR GOLF CLUB.

Will Hold Special Meeting Thursday Night at Club House.

The Cape Fear Golf Club will hold a special meeting Thursday night at the club house on the links east of the city. The main purpose of the meeting is to hear the report of the committee appointed to acquire by purchase the holdings of the Cape Fear Country Club, which owns the property on which the links are located. It is stated that arrangements have about been completed for the purchase of the property.

Fine Service at St. Andrew's.

The special services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last night were well attended and Mr. Hawks, the Baltimore humorist and lecturer, spoke with much effect, his words deeply moving the hearts of his hearers. One young man made a profession of faith and will unite with the church. The singing is being led by the young people's choir. Last night's sermon was on "The Name" and tonight Mr. Hawks' subject will be "The Home." Interest in the meeting is growing and the attendance is unusually good. All are invited to be present and hear the noted lecturer.

..Theatrical..

Wilmington's theatrical season will open in a blaze of glory tonight. The inauguration of what is going to be the most brilliant season in Wilmington's history falls to the lot of the Al. G. Field's Greater Minstrels, which will insure a big and superb start. The audience that will be on hand tonight will undoubtedly be a mammoth one, because the sale of seats has already been tremendous. The sale opened at Plummer's yesterday morning and there was a big rush. The scale, according to the usual Field custom, notwithstanding the expensiveness and elegance of the show, does not go any higher than $1. The minstrels will reach Wilmington this morning from Raleigh and will be seen on parade about the noon hour.

There are 19 huge scenes in this season's production, and each of these are the masterpieces of the scenic artist's skill. Th opening first part shows the "Levee Down in Louisiana," Next comes the "Dixie Cotton Fields," "The Flower Fun Festival," "The Mississippi River Boat," "The Husking Bee," "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," showing the entire company in songs and dances, "Forbes Field," the home of the Pittsburg Pirates, and a burlesque on the national game between the "Black Hawks and the Blue Jays." Next comes "Mexico, Oh, Ho." depicting the army maneuvers of the troops down on the border, ending with the great "Naval Review." This season Mr. Fields has outdone all his former triumphs, and promises to Wilmington tonight the greatest burnt cork organization that the City by the Sea has ever had an opportunity to witness.

At the Grand.

"Bill's Ward," a Lubin story in motion pictures of a rugged miner's love for the daughter of his dead partner, will be one of the feature films at the Grand today. Still another Lubin film, a big comedy, will be "The Ranch's New Barber." She was a lady barber, good-looking and agreeable and her shop was liberally patronized. Then there will be a great Edison picture. "At Jones' Ferry," a story of the Maine lumber regions. Mr. Danford will sing a beautiful illustrated ballad, "Love's Sentence."

At the Bijou.

Today is going to be the big day for big laughs at the Bijou. While it is going to be attractive in both the musical and dramatic lines, yet it is going to be especially gigantic and select for fun. "It is to laugh," so all who want to enjoy the delightful sensation of chuckling in some most wholesome manner should be on hand at one of the Bijou performances this afternoon or tonight. A complete change of programme will be made throughout, of course, all the films being new and the musical number being of the latest type and merriest character, including a big song hit by Wilmington's favorite, Mr. Frank Banks, but one particularly bright photoplay star will be the much-talked of smile-picture, "Archibald, the Hero". It is a scream for laughs. Archibald is a great braggard, but when his father sends him west he quivers and shakes. Accidentally he poses as a hero, and then he is in his glory. However, late he unexpectedly falls down on the job and is given wholesale horse laughs. There is a love story, too, that is lively interesting.

The New Lyric.

The crowds at the New Lyric are growing daily The theatre is running a special ladies' and children's matinee, first show at 3:30 and the second at 4:30. One hour of solid pleasure to the ladies and children. Good music and good pictures and great comedy. Don't forget the matinees 3:30 and 4:30. Ten cents admission.

MOVING SEASON HAS BEGUN.

Transfer Companies Find Great Demand for Moving Vans.

Moving season has arrived and from now until the 1st of October the furniture vans and wagons will be in great demand. The transfer companies report that already they have had a heavy demand for vans. Nearly all the wagons were kept going yesterday. People are moving a little earlier this year than usual, it is said, each one perhaps trying to avoid the rush which comes the latter part of September and the first of October, when it is almost impossible to get moved at the time desired.

Removed to New Location.

Mr. D. D. Benton, who has so successfully conducted a grocery business for several years at Fourth and Nun streets, has purchased valuable property two doors south of his former location and has removed to the new stand where he has a complete line of everything good to eat. The location is 408 South Fourth street and he will be glad to have his friends call on him there.

against the wall separating the City Hall property from the property next east on the south side of the building, and is not to exceed 40 feet in length and the height of the wall. Councilmen Perdew and B. C. Moore voted against the privilege.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor Smith and in attendance were all members; Capt. Thos. D. Meares, the clerk; City Attorneys Herbert McClammy and Geo. L. Peschau, and Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt.

STATE BANKING LAWS.

Committee to Prepare Revisal to Submit to Next Legislature.

Mr. Thos. E. Cooper, cashier of the American National Bank, will leave this evening for Raleigh to attend a meeting of the legislative committee of the North Carolina Bankers' Association. At the annual meeting of the association this Summer Mr. Cooper was appointed one of a committee of six to prepare a revisal of the State banking laws, to be submitted to the next General Assembly for amendment and passage at its descretion. The committee will meet in Raleigh tomorrow to begin its work, which will include the reforms discussed and recommended at the annual meeting of the association as desirable features of the banking laws of North Carolina.

Song Service Attracts Many.

Interest is growing in the evangelical services at Grace Church, which are being featured by the work of Mr. Arnold, the famous evangelical soloist and choir leader. The congregation was quite large last night and after the regular meeting an after-meeting, in the form of an old-time Methodist experience meeting, was held. The public is cordially invited to attend these services, which are held every evening this week.

A SHARP DECLINE IN COTTON

Fell Off 19 to 25 Points on Market Yesterday—Less Favorable Weather In the South — Conditions.

New York, September 19.—Apprehension of less favorable weather in the South seemed to be completely overshadowed by reports of an easier spot situation in the cotton market today and prices broke very sharply, under more active and general selling than has been noted for some weeks past, with the close barely steady at a net decline of 19@25 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of five points on September and of one to three points on later months in response to rather better cables than expected, and during the earlier trading was rather quiet, with fluctuations irregular, as sellers again seemed to be held in check by reports that the tropical storm was still somewhere in the lower gulf and might yet reach the cotton belt, while the steadier tone of Liverpool failed to inspire any fresh buying of consequence, owing to overnight reports of easier inferior spot markets and expectations of a favorable weekly weather report at midday. This early irregularity, however, was followed by increased offerings toward midday on reports that with receipts rapidly increasing in the South, the demand from mills was slacking, and the market became very unsettled, stop loss orders being uncovered on a scale down, while about the only demand appeared to be the realizing of scattering shorts. Around 11 cents for October and 11.07 for December the covering became heavy enough to check the decline and to cause rallies of 4 or 5 points from the lowest, but the tone continued nervous and the market eased again in the last few moments, closing at practically the lowest point of the day, and at about the lowest prices reached since the publication of September condition figures. Cables reports that martial law had been declared in Spain and Vienna, combined with reports of a very unsettled financial situation in Berlin, appeared to add to the confidence of sellers on the decline as indicating unfavorable trade conditions abroad and leading to predictions of a hand-to-mouth demand from spinners at the very time when receipts are increasing and Southern spot markets appear to be weakening.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 20 points lower; middling uplands, 11.45; do. gulf, 11.70; no sales.

Receipts, 63,906 bales, against 55,672 last week, and 63,959 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 3,363 bales, against 1,884 last year.

Futures closed barely steady.

NEW FACTORS AIDED STOCKS

Renewal of Selling on Heavy Scale in Market Yesterday—Foreign Situation and Political Conditions Features.

New York, September 19.—A distinctly heavier tone developed today in the securities market. There was a renewal of selling on a heavy scale. The movement seemed to represent, in the main, the influence of two factors—the foreign situation and domestic political conditions. The advance of the German bank rate from 4 to 5 per cent. was in no sense a surprise and seemed to have been fully justified by recent events. The weekly statement showed that last week the bank lost 4,250,000 in gold and increased its discounts by $42,700,000. Private bankers had anticipated the change rate by raising the private discount rate materially above the official minimum of the bank of Germany.

The increase of today served to draw attention to the existing tension in foreign monetary affairs, and the unfavorable effect which it exercised on European markets was felt here.

Serious political conditions in Spain and Austria also found more or less reflection in the nervous state of the continental exchanges.

While the most bearish forecasts of what the President was to say in regard to corporations in yetserday's speech were borne out, the attitude of the National administration as thus outlined seemed to be responsible for much of the day's selling. An indication of the nature of this selling may be found in the fact that of the three stocks to fail to new records for the year, two of them—United States Steel and International Harvester—were issues of the corporations mentioned most frequently in Wall street reports of expected anti-trust proceedings.

The selling of United States Steel was especially heavy late in the day, blocks of 1,000 to 3,500 shares being thrown on the market. The price fell 2½ points to 65. International Harvester sold at 100¾, a loss of 1¼. The third issue to reach a new low point was Amalgamated Copper, which declined 2⅝ to 53¾.

The pressure against United States Steel was due in part to the belief that conditions in the industry are at low ebb. Operations of the United States Steel Corporation since the first of the month have fallen below the corresponding period in August. The volume of business continues to dwindle, and the margin of profit has been reduced so largely that earnings of many of the steel companies are undoubtedly low. One estimate of the earnings of the United States Steel Corporation for the current quarter was $110,000,000, as compared with $141,000,000, in the same period of last year.

The heavy selling of the last hour sent down prices generally from one to two points, with larger losses in a number of cases.

The bond market was steady. Total sales, par value, $1,754,000. United States bonds were unchanged. Total sales stocks today were 432,500 shares.

THE FATNESS OF HEALTH.

Samose Fills Out the Curves and Makes Thin People Fat.

If you are thin, your health is not what it should be. If you are losing weight steadily there is something wrong that should be attended to at once. You cannot be healthy and strong if you are thin.

Perfect health and good, solid beautiful flesh can only come through the use of Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food.

This makes the thin and scrawny, plump and robust; it mixes with the food so that all of the elements that make solid bone, firm muscle and good flesh are thoroughly assimilated and retained in the system.

Samose is not a drug or a stimulant; it is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores thin people to a normal condition of good healthy flesh.

There are thousands of unhappy, nervous thin people who would look and feel entirely different if they were only fat and plump. Let them use Samose and they will soon notice remarkable results.

These statements are confirmed by J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., offer to refund the money to anyone buying and using Samose who does not gain in weight as promised. The risk is all J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co's. The thin and scrawny can buy Samose at Druggists J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co's. store, with the knowledge that if it is not successful it will cost absolutely nothing.

How the Benthall Peanut Picker Pays for Itself in a Season

If you grow peanuts you can't afford not to own a Benthall Peanut Picker. The machine will pay for itself the first season.

Yes, siree! with one, you and your boys can do the work of a hundred hands and do it better. You avoid losses from stealing. You get your crop off to market early—get highest prices. It makes peanut growing doubly profitable. That's what it does.

Our recleaning and bagging attachment makes it unnecessary to run peanuts over for seed a second time—makes them absolute ly clean—free from tops, roots and pieces of vine.

The Benthall is a picker and not a "thresher." It picks both Spanish and Virginia peanuts as perfectly as human as fingers. It keeps the vines for hay!

Other machines that thresh them crack the nuts so that they will not keep—grind the vines to smithereens, so that they are unfit for feed. The Benthall is the picker of proven worth—tried out in the peanut fields of old Virginia.

The Benthall is almost wearproof and is sold under guarantee.

the United Company is about 2 2-3 cents per pair of shoes.

Last year the company brought suit against Thomas O. Plant, Boston shoe manufacturer, charging patent infringements. Plant sold out his shoe machinery plant and patent rights to the United States Company after a bitter fight. A few months later an independent company—the Brosnahan Shoe Machinery Company of Lynn, Mass., was also purchased by the United Company.

The next important happening in the life of the United Shoe Machinery Company was the unexpected government probe. The special grand jury was called August 1st. Government agents stated before serving subpoenas that the question of leases would be a vital question for the grand jury to consider. The jury made an extensive investigation, sitting four and five days a week during the entire month of August.

Announcement of the climax in the government's inquiries was coincident with a proposal for a State investigation by Governor Eugene N. Foss, a Democrat, who in a message to the Legislature, which was then in session, pointed out the need of a statute to reach the alleged monopoly. The Legislative committee on rules said that an anti-monopoly bill already enacted covered the situation. Governor Foss, then turning to Attorney General Swift, demanded an immediate investigation of the methods of the Massachusetts Shoe Machinery industry.

Attorney General Swift then requested the Governor for evidence. The Governor replied it was not the duty of his office to supply evidence. Meanwhile the Attorney General consulted with several shoe men, but Governor Foss again urged the Legislature to take action, accompanying a second message with a letter from the president of a large Massachusetts shoe manufacturing company relating conditions in the industry.

A State hearing on the matter followed and Representative Bogue from the big shoe center at Lynn introduced a bill in the House of Representatives providing for a recess committee to begin a probe in Massachusetts.

At the hearing Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, who has assisted the government in some of its trust cases, presented a bill, drawn up, he said, for Attorney General Swift, which provided for drastic regulations, prohibition of royalties and leases, with prison penalties for the violation.

President Charles H. Jones, president of a large shoe company, in reading the bill at a hearing declared that if it was enacted into law it would mean the saving of five cents on each pair of shoes manufactured.

At the hearing Charles S. Schoate, an attorney, declared that the United Shoe Machinery Company had been doing everything in its power to aid the government in their investigation.

The order providing for the recess investigation was killed in the House, on the ground that the government was already conducting an investigation against the Shoe Machinery Company.

TICKET AGENT'S ASSOCIATION.

Several Changes Recommended to Railroads of Country.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—Charles N. Burt today resigned as secretary of the General Passenger and Ticket Agents' Association in annual convention here and C. R. Hunter, of the Trunk Line Association, was chosen temporary secretary. Hereafter all excursion tickets will be endorsed with ink on either the face or back with the name of the special occasion for which they are issued, if the railroads pursue the recommendation of the association. So also on all tickets issued, the association would have carried the following stipulation:

"Baggage valuation is limited to $100 for an adult and $50 for a child unless purchaser hereof declares a greater valuation at time baggage is presented for transportation and pays excess valuation charges according to tariff rates, rules and regulations."

The following recommendations will be submitted to the territorial association for action:

"Uniformity in prepaid ticket orders; the avoidance of the sale of tickets by circuitous routes by confining tickets to such lines and junctions where reasonable connections can be made, and the inauguration of more complete ticket representations and coupons to eliminate exchange orders."

MAINE ELECTION IN DOUBT.

Result is Against Prohibition But Errors May Be Found.

Augusta, Me., Sept. 19.—After having completed the tabulation of the official returns on all four questions which appeared upon the ballot at the special election a week ago, the Governor and Council tonight adjourned until Thursday ( September 28th, when they will meet to consider corrections.

The results as announced today were as follows: On repeal of the constitutional prohibitory amendment, for repeal 60,487 Against repeal 66,461. Majority for repeal, 26. The State-wide primary system was adopted by a majority of 44,036.3.

The majority for locating the State capital permanently at Augusta was 18,384 and that for increasing the debt limit in cities of 40,000 and over, 530.

Attorney General Pattangall stated tonight that the question of the repeal of the prohibitory amendment was still in doubt, and it was his belief that corrections would show a considerable majority against repeal.

The time for receiving corrections will not expire until October 9th.

Governor Plaisted said tonight that corrections would be made in the returns of several towns which might materially alter the result.

CANADA'S RECIPROCITY FIGHT.

Election Takes Place Tomorrow—Both Sides Nervous.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 19.—With elections but a day distant both the political parties in Canada have become perceptibly nervous. The party press and the political speeches are showing the nervous strain of the long fight and are less logical and more reckless than a week ago.

Today a number of manufacturers suspended operations and ordered out their workmen to hear an anti-reciprocity address delivered in their factory yards. The proprietors of a large packing plant stated to their workmen if reciprocity carried they will have to close down. Notices of a similar character have been issued to workmen by a number of manufacturers in Canada.

Anti-reciprocity newspapers are more vehemently than ever raising the cry that reciprocity means annexation. Speeches by Champ Clark and other American champions of annexation are being printed in large types on front pages. The Liberals are warning the people to "vote for reciprocity and their own pocket" and denounce the annexation cry as a millionaire's subterfuge to mislead the electors.

Each side claims the victory. A big vote is certain to be polled. Few wagers are being made. The prevailing odds are 3 to 1 that the government will be sustained and even money that the government majority will be 30 or over.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—The popularly termed "reciprocity campaign" which has been the most bitterly contested in the history of Canada, and has made Dominion politics as never before a matter of world knowledge and interest, was brought practically to a close tonight when enormous outdoor meetings in French districts of this city were addressed by two leading and strikingly contrasting figures in the contest, Sir Wilfred Laurier and Henri Bourassa.

Both the premier, who naturally has been reciprocity's most prominent exponent, and the National leader whose unique opposition and propaganda probably have done more than anything else to increase the number of question marks set against names of continuencies by political forecasters, were greeted with the enthusiasm typical of the politically susceptible French element of Montreal.

That reciprocity is the supreme issue and that next Thursday's balloting affords an unprecedented opportunity for accelerating the Dominion's development was the reiteration of Sir Wilfrid.

That reciprocity is undesirable was insisted upon by Mr. Bourassa.

Although obviously worn by his five weeks of travel and speech-making, the premier made his summarizing appeal for the ratification of reciprocity with notable vigor and was alternately severe and facetious in assailing those who, he said, have sought to insult the intelligence of the Canadian voter by persisting in the attempt to substitute the dead bogie of annexation for the live issue of reciprocity.

"I admire the great American Republic," said the premier. "I was born in Canada. It is my land, and I do not want it merged into the American Republic. Under reciprocity we shall be even better friends and furnish in the American continent an example of great peoples living on either side of an invisible line in peace and amity."

RUSSIA'S DEAD PREMIER.

Emperor Attends Mass for Repose of His Soul.

Kiev, Russia, Sept. 19.—A mass for the repose of the soul of the late Russian prime minister, M. Stolypin, who was shot during a gala performance at the Municipal Theatre Thursday night, was celebrated today at the Kiev hospital, where the statesman succumbed last night to the injuries inflicted by his assassin, Dmitry Bogroff. Emperor Nicholas participated in the ceremonies and personally condoled with M. Stolypin's widow.

After an autopsy this morning, the body of the dead premier was embalmed. Before he died Stolypin expressed the wish to be buried at Kiev, and the Emperor ordered that his wishes be respected. Accordingly, the body will be removed tomorrow to Petchersk Monastery. The funeral will take place there at 10 o'clock Friday morning, with a religious service in the monastery church yard.

The Emperor sent a cross of white flowers as a tribute and the Empress and Dowager Empress telegraphed condolences to the widow. Governor General Tropoff has issued a proclamation declaring that any acts of violence will be rigorously suppressed.

WOULD WRECK TRAIN.

Dastardly Attempt to Plunge It Into Trestle Near Gastonia.

Gastonia, N. C., Sept. 19.—A dastardly attempt was made this morning to wreck northbound passenger train No. 10, on the Carolina & North Western Railway, at the trestle over Crowder's creek, six miles below Gastonia. Only the extreme caution of the engineer in crossing the trestle saved the train, and even considering this, it is a miracle that the engine and a part of the train were not lost.

The would-be wreckers had loosened a rail and with a crow bar had prized one end of it out of line with the rail ahead. The engineer slowed down the train as usual to cross the trestle, which is 300 feet long and is 50 feet above the water in the center. When the engine came to the death trap the engineer felt that there was something wrong instantly, and reversed the engine. An investigation disclosed the loosened rail and the crow bar that had been used was was found nearby. The track was repaired and in less than half an hour the train came on to the city.

RACING MEET AT NORFOLK.

There Will Be Twenty-Five Days at Jamestown Track.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 19.—Manager Bob Levy, of Jamestown Jockey Club, announced today that the Fall meeting at this track would open November 2nd, and close November 30th. This will mean 25 days of racing, the longest meeting ever held in this section.

Officials for the meeting were also announced. They are Ed Cole and Frank J. Bryan, judges; Mars Cassidy or A. B. Day, starter; F. W. Gerhardy, secretary; H. P. Conkling, Paddock and Patrol Judge; J. H. Ssmith, clerk of the scales, and George Miller, timer.

FROM DEATH TO LIFE.

Michigan Man Returns After 13 Years. Insurance Feature.

Niles, Mich., Sept. 19.—George Alfred Kimmel, believed by relatives to have been dead for 13 years, arrived at his old home here from the penitentiary at Auburn, N. Y., late today and was identified by dozens of former friends and associates. Among those who identified Kimmel was his cousin, Mrs. Harry L. Fox, who opened her home to the wanderer and held a celebration of his strange return.

Despite Kimmel's identification, however, and his acceptance by other relatives, his mother, Mrs. Stella Kimmel, refused to see him tonight. She remained in seclusion at the home of a friend while scores of Kimmel's old companions sought him out at the Fox residence. The mother continued to denounce Kimmel as an imposter who was attempting to deprive her of $25,000 insurance which she held on her son's life.

Kimmel's arrival here was dramatic in the extreme. He was accompanied from Auburn by Harry L. Fox and two other old associates from Niles, who had telegraphed from the East that they were sure of Kimmel's identity. As Kimmel stepped from the train scores attempted to talk to him, but his friends hurried him into a waiting carriage and drove him to the Fox home to see his cousin. Here he was also met by F. M. Cook and Richard Dugan, two of the men who had known Kimmel best in the old days. Both said they were entirely satisfied that Kimmel was not an impostor.

After the first flurry of the arrival and identification had passed, Kimmel gave an account of his wanderings since he disappeared from Arkansas City, Kan., in 1898.

"As you all remember," said Kimmel. "I left my home here in Niles in 1898 to go into business at Arkansas City, Kan. I went to St. Louis from Arkansas City that same year on a business trip. While in St. Louis at that time I was slugged by hold-up men, and for a long time my memory was quite bad.

"For several years, it was with the greatest difficulty that I remembered anything. Things came back to me piece-meal and strive as hard as I could I could not remember much while in this condition, and eventually brought up in New York. I have little to say about the trouble I got into there which resulted in my being sent to prison. But I was not responsible at that time, and do not think I should be judged for that."

Kimmel declared that he could not understand why his mother does not want to see him adding that he still holds the greatest love for her.

Seven years after Kimmel's disappearance in 1898, his mother instituted suit in the St. Louis courts to secure the insurance which she held on his life. A jury returned a verdict in her favor and declared Kimmel to be legally dead. Upon this verdict one company paid Mrs. Kimmel on a $5,000 policy. Another company which carried a $20,000 policy on Kimmel, fought the claim and carried the matter to higher courts. Meanwhile this company directed a country-wide for Kimmel and finally announced to the court that Kimmel was at Auburn. Upon this discovery, the company informed Kimmel's relatives that no payment would be made in the $20,000 policy. Mrs. Kimmel, however, said she put no confidence the discovery made by the insurance company and declared the whole matter was a conspiracy to defraud her of the money.

JEW APPOINTED TO THE ARMY.

Young Bloom Wins Against Official Snobbery.

Washington, Sept. 19.—According to unofficial reports received in Washington today, Private Frank Bloom, of the Third Field Artillery, on whose account Col. Girrard, commanding Fort Myer, Va., was reprimanded by President Taft a few months ago, has passed his examinations for promotion and will shortly be commissioned a second lieutenant in the army. It was stated at the War Department, however, that the examination papers have not yet reached Washington from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where the test was held September 1st, and consequently nothing could be said officially on the case. Bloom failed in his first examination. It was then that Col. Garrard entered an endorsement on his papers opposing his promotion on the ground that he was a Jew. This brought about the Presidential reprimand of the officer.

Washington, Sept. 19.—No further information was available today concerning the disturbance reported in the Carribean Sea, although Belen college observatory at Havana advised that at 10 A. M. today its center was near the extreme northeastern point of the Yucatan peninsula. During the next forty-eight hours the Weather Bureau says it is not likely that its influence will be felt on the South coasts, although thunder showers and squalls are probable on the Middle Gulf and Florida coasts Wednesday and Thursday.

TO PALE, THIN PEOPLE

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Offers to Pay for Samose if It Does not Make Thin People Fat

Pale, thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment. They may eat enough, but their food is not properly digested and does them no good.

Samose, the remarkable flesh-forming food should be used by all who are pale, weak and thin. It mingles with the food and aids assimilation, so that when taken for a short time, nature will soon assert her normal powers, and the food that is eaten will give strength and good flesh.

Weigh your self before you commence the use of Samose, and you will notice a steady gain. Samose is a scientific flesh-forming food that restores the thin and scrawny to their proper weight, and fills the weak and debilitated with vigor and vitality.

The woman who longs for rosy cheeks and the plumpness of beauty should use Samose. The man who wants to be strong and well and gain health and good flesh will find his desires accomplished by Samose.

Such remarkable results have followed the use of Samose that Druggist J. Hicks Bunting is willing to pay for the treatment if it does not give the desired results. He makes this offer generally and wants all who are thin, weak and out of health to get a box of Samose from him on those terms.

AVIATION ACCIDENTS.

Washington Man Dropped Into Creek at Harrisburg Meet—Flights.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 19.—George Mestach, a French aviator, here for the aviation meet, flew over the dome of the State capitol at a distance of 450 feet today. Mestach flew from an exhibition park three miles from the city, around the dome and over the Susquehanna river. During the flights of the afternoon Paul Pack, of Washington, glided too close to a clump of trees and fell 75 feet into a creeek. He was cut and bruised and his back was injured. His machine was wrecked.

New York, September 19.—Neither C. P. Rodgers, who is stalled at Middletown, N. Y., with a wrecked machine, nor J. J. Ward, who is a Corning, N. Y., was able to resume his coast to coast aeroplane flight today. Ward expects to get away tomorrow, and Rodgers hopes to do so, but the mechanicians, who are at work on his bi-lane, may not finish repairs by that time.

Ward proposed to start today, but at the last moment discovered the oil connections to his engine were cracked. Necessary repairs will be completed by tomorrow. Mrs. Rodgers tried today to dissuade her son from continuing the flight, but he made light of her fears.

AVIATOR FALLS TO DEATH.

John W. Rosenbaum Killed in Iowa Yesterday.

De Witt, Iowa, Sept. 19.—John W. Rosenbaum, of Chicago, was killed here today when his aeroplane fell from a height of fifty feet. He had been in the air only twenty minutes when he lost control of the machine. Rosenbaum was making a trial flight when he met death. He was using a Curtiss bi-plane which had been at the DeWitt fair last night. At that time Ludwig, an aviator, failed to make a flight. Rosenbaum this afternoon declared he would prove that the machine would fly. He had just started a descent when he lost control. The aviator was to have given exhibition flights at Clinton, Iowa, later in the week.
